You can also get this information at no cost by calling 1-800-498-5413 or by sending an email request to Orders@MySummaryProspectus.com. This Summary Prospectus incorporates by reference the Fund's entire statutory prospectus and SAI, each dated August 29, 2012, as further revised or supplemented from time to time.

Investment Objective

The Fund seeks long-term capital appreciation.

Fees and Expenses of the Fund

The tables below describe the fees and expenses that you may pay if you buy and hold shares of the Fund.

Shareholder Fees (fees paid directly from your investment): None

Annual Fund Operating Expenses (expenses that you pay each year as a percentage of the value of your investment)

Share Class	Management Fees	Distribution and/or Service (12b-1) Fees	Other Expenses	Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses

Class P	1.30	None	0.03	1.33
Administrative	1.20	0.25 %	0.03	1.48
Class D	1.30	0.25	0.03	1.58

Examples. The Examples are intended to help you compare the cost of investing in shares of the Fund with the costs of investing in other mutual funds. The Examples assume that you invest $10,000 in the noted class of shares for the time periods indicated, your investment has a 5% return each year, and the Fund's operating expenses remain the same. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, the Examples show what your costs would be based on these assumptions.

Share Class	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Institutional	$125	$390	$676	$1,489
Class P	135	421	729	1,601
Administrative	151	468	808	1,768
Class D	161	499	860	1,878

Portfolio Turnover

The Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). The Fund's portfolio turnover rate for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2012 was 176%. High levels of portfolio turnover may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes for you if your Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses or in the Examples above, can adversely affect the Fund's investment performance.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Fund seeks to achieve its objective by normally investing at least 80% of its net assets (plus borrowings made for country outside the United States, other than Japan. The Fund intends to invest primarily in companies with market investment purposes) in common stocks and other equity securities of technology companies and in derivatives and other synthetic instruments that have economic characteristics similar to equity securities of technology companies. Derivatives transactions may have the effect of either magnifying or limiting the Fund's gains and losses. The Fund normally invests in companies organized or headquartered in at least three different countries and may invest up to 50% of its assets in non-U.S. issuers, including those organized or headquartered in emerging market countries, but normally no more than 25% of its assets are invested in issuers organized or headquartered in any one capitalizations greater than $500 million, with no more than 15% of its assets in technology companies with market capitalizations below $100 million. The Fund is "non-diversified," which means that it may invest a significant portion of its assets in a relatively small number of issuers, which may increase risk. The portfolio managers define technology companies as those that provide technology products or services or utilize technology to gain competitive advantages. The portfolio managers evaluate fundamental value and growth prospects and focus on companies that they expect will have higher than average rates of growth and strong potential for capital appreciation. The portfolio

managers develop forecasts of economic growth, inflation and interest rates that are used to help identify regions and countries that are likely to offer the best investment opportunities. In addition to common stocks and other equity securities (such as preferred stocks, convertible securities and warrants), the Fund may invest in securities issued in initial public offerings (IPOs) and may utilize foreign currency exchange contracts, options, futures and forward contracts, short sales, swap agreements and other derivative instruments. Although the Fund may invest in derivatives of any kind, it expects to invest in options, swaps and, to a lesser extent, foreign exchange

The Fund's net asset value, yield and total return will be affected by the allocation determinations, investment decisions and techniques of the Fund's management, factors specific to the issuers of securities and other instruments in which the Fund invests, including actual or perceived changes in the financial condition or business prospects of such issuers, and factors influencing the U.S. or global economies and securities markets or relevant industries or sectors within them (Management Risk, Issuer Risk, Market Risk). Equity securities may react more strongly to changes in an issuer's financial condition or prospects than other securities of the same issuer, and securities issued by smaller companies may be more volatile and present increased liquidity risk (Equity Securities Risk, Smaller Company Risk). Focusing on a limited number of issuers, sectors (such as the technology sectors), industries, or geographic regions increases risk and volatility (Focused Investment Risk (Technology-Related Risk)). Derivative instruments are complex, have different characteristics than their underlying assets and are subject to additional risks, including leverage, liquidity and valuation (Derivatives Risk). Other principal risks include: Credit Risk (an issuer or counterparty may default on obligations); IPO Risk (securities purchased in initial public offerings contracts. The Fund may write call options on individual securities that it does not hold in its portfolio (i.e., "naked" call options) as well as call options on indices and exchange-traded funds. The Fund ordinarily expects to use derivative instruments in an attempt to enhance the Fund's investment returns, to hedge against market and other risks or to obtain market exposure. The Fund may enter into credit default, cross-currency, interest rate, total return, variance and other forms of swap agreements in order to manage its exposure to credit, currency and interest rate risk.

Principal Risks

have no trading history, limited issuer information and increased volatility); Leveraging Risk (instruments and transactions that constitute leverage magnify gains or losses and increase volatility); Liquidity Risk (the lack of an active market for investments may cause delay in disposition or force a sale below fair value); Non-U.S. Investment Risk, Emerging Markets Risk, Currency Risk (non-U.S. securities markets and issuers may be more volatile, smaller, less liquid, less transparent and subject to less oversight, particularly in emerging markets, and non-U.S. securities values may also fluctuate with currency exchange rates); Short Selling Risk (short selling enhances leveraging risk and involves counterparty risk and the risk of unlimited loss); and Turnover Risk (high levels of portfolio turnover increase transaction costs and taxes and may lower investment performance). Please see "Summary of Principal Risks" in the Fund's statutory prospectus for a more detailed description of the Fund's risks. It is possible to lose money on an investment in the Fund. An investment in the Fund is not a deposit of a bank and is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency.

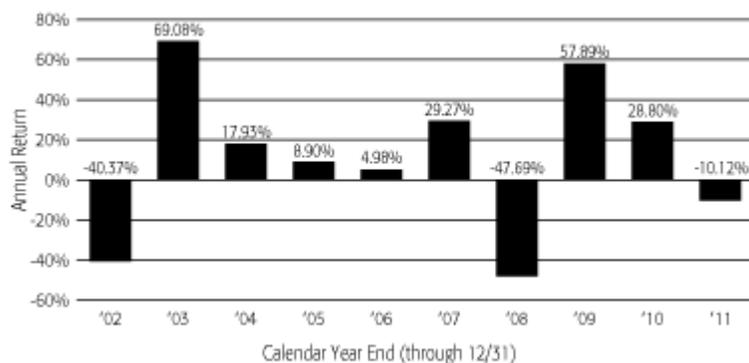

Performance Information

The performance information below provides some indication of the risks of investing in the Fund by showing changes in its total return from year to year and by comparing the Fund's average annual total returns with those of a broad-based market index, a sector-specific index and a performance average of similar mutual funds. The bar chart and the information to its right show performance of the Fund's Institutional Class shares. Class P, Administrative Class and Class D performance would be lower than Institutional Class performance because of the lower expenses paid by Institutional Class shares. For periods prior to the inception date of a share class, performance information shown for such class may be based on the performance of an older class of shares that dates back to the Fund's inception, as adjusted to reflect certain fees and expenses paid by the newer class. Similarly, for periods prior to a reorganization of the Fund, in which a predecessor fund was merged into the Fund, the performance information is based on the performance of the predecessor fund, adjusted to reflect certain fees and expenses paid by the particular share class of the Fund. These adjustments generally result in estimated performance results that are higher or lower than the actual results of the predecessor class and/or the predecessor fund, as the case may be, due to differing levels of fees and expenses paid. Details regarding the calculation of the Fund's class-by-class performance, including a discussion of any performance adjustments, are provided under "Additional Performance Information" in the Fund's statutory prospectus and SAI. Past performance, before and after taxes, is not necessarily predictive of future performance. Visit www.allianzinvestors.com for more current performance information.

After-tax returns are estimated using the highest historical individual federal marginal income tax rates and do not reflect the impact of state and local taxes. Actual after-tax returns depend on an investor's tax situation and may differ from those shown. After-tax returns are not relevant to investors who hold Fund shares through tax-deferred arrangements such as 401(k) plans or individual retirement accounts. In some cases the return after taxes may exceed the return before taxes due to an assumed tax benefit from any losses on a sale of Fund shares at the end of the measurement period. After-tax returns are for Institutional Class shares only. After-tax returns for other share classes will vary.
