</TABLE>

Sales increased 19% to $152.0 million in the first quarter of 1994 compared with the first quarter of 1993 as a result of increased sales of semiconductor test systems, backplane connection systems and circuit-board test systems. Sales of telecommunications test systems declined in the first quarter. Sales of semiconductor test systems increased as semiconductor manufacturers added capacity in response to rising demand for their products. Sales of backplane connection systems increased in response to the increasing demand for the high technology products of the Company's customer base. The increase in sales of circuit-board test systems resulted from increased sales to U.S. Government defense contractors. As a result of the increase in sales, income before taxes increased $11.5 million in the first quarter of 1994 over the first quarter of 1993.

Incoming orders increased from $129 million in the first quarter of 1993 to $157 million in the first quarter of 1994. Backlog at the end of the first quarter of 1994 was $293 million.

Cost of sales decreased from 58% of sales in the first quarter of 1993 to 56% of sales in the first quarter of 1994 as the fixed and semi-variable components of cost of sales did not increase at the same rate as the increase in sales.

5

Engineering and development expenses decreased from 12% of sales in the first quarter of 1993 to 10% of sales in the first quarter of 1994. Selling and administrative expenses decreased from 24% of sales to 21% of sales over the same periods. In both of these expense categories, the actual dollar amount of expenses were essentially unchanged as a result of the Company's efforts to control the growth in these expenses while sales have risen.

In the first quarter of 1994, the Company had net interest income of $.6 million compared to net interest expense of $.3 million in the first quarter of 1993. This change was due to interest earned on the increase in cash of $33.1 million between April 4, 1993 and April 3, 1994, and lower interest expense as a result of the retirement of the Company's convertible debentures in the fourth quarter of 1993.

The Company's effective tax rate was 30% in both the first quarters of 1994 and 1993.

Changes in Financial Condition During the First Three Months of 1994

During the first three months of 1994, cash decreased $15.6 million to a balance of $128.0 million. Cash flow used by operations was $1.4 million. The Company used cash of $20.5 million to purchase stock from its shareholders on the open market and generated cash of $11.9 million from employees under the Company's employee stock option and stock purchase plans, resulting in a net cash outflow of $8.6 million for stock related activities. An additional $5.3 million was used to fund property and equipment additions for the quarter.
