Overview and History

Our business is to develop and market music to individual consumers using the most current technology available, initially exclusively over the Internet. We plan to offer exclusive artist music from recognized artists, who are talent with a substantial fan base, as well as an active Internet domain. We also plan to eventually offer other products, such as musical equipment, although we have no definitive plans at this point to do so.

We plan to target specific demographics, initially men and women between the ages of 18-35 years old and to initially exclusively rely upon the Internet for the worldwide distribution of our content. We plan to use the music as a marketing tool for future sales. With the content we plan to develop and market on our channel, which will be a website we plan to develop. We plan to eventually have a captured market in which we can then provide live performance festivals worldwide.

The live festivals will act as a promotional vehicle as well as a significant revenue machine. With the live festivals, we plan to develop revenue with ticket sales, product sales, sponsorship and advertising.

The current business plans include:

- Technology for delivery of music product using standard available engineered systems
- Music product and artists
- Equipment sales
- Live festival marketing events

We will first start by developing the artists and music products. We will then use this talent to deliver the products through product sales. We will also use festival marketing events to promote our products.

We were incorporated on November 6, 2007. Our original location is in the Denver, Colorado metropolitan area, but we plan to operate on a world wide basis. We plan to sell our services to the general public. We expect approximately $25,000 in operating costs over the next twelve months. At the present time, we have no plans to raise any additional funds within the next twelve months, other than those raised in our recent Offering. Any working capital will be expected to be generated from funds which may be loaned to us by Mr. Castillo, our CEO. In the event that we need additional capital, Mr. Castillo has orally agreed to loan such funds as may be necessary through December 31, 2012 for working capital purposes, although he has no obligation to do so. However, we reserve the right to examine possible additional sources of funds, including, but not limited to, equity or debt offerings, borrowings, or joint ventures. No market surveys have ever been conducted to determine demand for our services. Therefore, there can be no assurance that any of our objectives will be achieved.

In August, 2008, we completed a private placement of our common shares under an exemption from the federal securities laws. We raised a total of $26,750 in this offering and sold a total of 107,000 shares.

We have not been subject to any bankruptcy, receivership or similar proceeding.

Our address is 11805 E. Fair Ave, Greenwood Village, Colorado 80111. Our telephone number is (970) 405-3105.

Results of Operations

From our inception on November 6, 2007 through September 30, 2012, we have generated no revenue and have no operations. As a result we have no operating history upon which to evaluate our intended business. In addition, we have a history of losses. We had a net loss of $99,759 for this period.

From our inception on November 6, 2007 through June 30, 2012, we have generated no revenue and have no operations. As a result we have no operating history upon which to evaluate our intended business. In addition, we have a history of losses. We had a net loss of $93,042.00 for this period.

Operating expenses, which consisted solely of general and administrative expenses for the three month period ended September 30, 2012, were $2,620. This compares with operating expenses for the three month period ended September 30, 2011 of $1,500. The major components of general and administrative expenses include accounting fees, consulting fees, legal and professional fees and stock transfer fees.

As a result of the foregoing, we had a net loss of $6,717 for the three month period ended September 30, 2012. This compares with a net loss for the three month period ended September 30, 2011 of $2,000.

Operating expenses, which consisted solely of general and administrative expenses for the nine month period ended September 30, 2012 were $32,814. This compares with operating expenses for the nine month period ended September 30, 2011 of $7,750. Operating expenses from November 6, 2007 through September 30, 2012 were $83,963. The major components of general and administrative expenses include accounting fees, consulting fees, legal and professional fees and stock transfer fees.

As a result of the foregoing, we had a net loss of $40,311 for the nine month period ended September 30, 2012. This compares with a net loss for the nine month period ended September 30, 2011 of $9,250. For the period from November 6, 2007 through September 30, 2012 our net loss was $99,759.

Because we do not pay salaries, and our major professional fees have been paid for the year, operating expenses are expected to remain fairly constant through the end of our fiscal year.

To try to operate at a break-even level based upon our current level of proposed business activity, we believe that we must generate approximately $25,000 in revenue per year. Each dollar of revenue is not directly tied to increasing costs. We believe that we can become profitable without incurring additional costs under our current operating cost structure. However, if our forecasts are inaccurate, we will need to raise additional funds. In the event that we need additional capital, we must seek funding, although we currently do not have any commitments for such funding.

On the other hand, if we decide that we cannot operate at a profit in our current configuration, we may choose to scale back our operations to operate at break-even with a smaller level of business activity, while adjusting our overhead to meet the revenue from current operations. In such event, we will probably not be profitable. In addition, we expect that we will need to raise additional funds if we decide to pursue more rapid expansion, the development of new or enhanced services or products, appropriate responses to competitive pressures, or the acquisition of complementary businesses or technologies, or if we must respond to unanticipated events that require us to make additional investments. We cannot assure that additional financing will be available when needed on favorable terms, or at all.

We expect to incur operating losses in future periods because we will be incurring expenses and not generating sufficient revenues. We expect approximately $25,000 in operating costs over the next twelve months. We cannot guarantee that we will be successful in generating sufficient revenues or other funds in the future to cover these operating costs. Failure to generate sufficient revenues or additional financing when needed could cause us to go out of business.

Liquidity and Capital Resources.

As of September 30, 2012, we had cash or cash equivalents of $1,539. As of December 31, 2011, we had cash or cash equivalents of $1,539.

Net cash used for operating activities was $32,000 for the nine month period ended September 30, 2012. This compares to net cash used for operating activities of $7,591 for the nine month period ended September 30, 2011. For the period from November 6, 2007 through September 30, 2012 they were $57,211.

Cash flows from investing activities were $-0- from our inception on November 6, 2007 through September 30, 2012.

Cash flows provided by financing activities were $32,000 for the nine month period ended September 30, 2012 which compares to cash flows provided by financing activities of $-0- for the nine month period ended September 30, 2011. For the period from November 6, 2007 through September 30, 2012 they were $58,750. These cash flows were all related to sales of stock, issuance of notes and deferred offering costs.

Over the next twelve months we do not expect any material capital costs to develop operations. We plan to buy office equipment to be used in our operations, which is included in our $25,000 operating costs. Our operating costs of $25,000 will be used for operations, but none will be used to pay salaries.

Our principal source of liquidity will be our operations. We expect variation in revenues to account for the difference between a profit and a loss. Also business activity is closely tied to the U.S. economy. Our ability to achieve and maintain profitability and positive cash flow is dependent upon our ability to successfully develop a music business and our ability to generate revenues.

In any case, we try to operate with minimal overhead. Our primary activity will be to seek to develop clients for our services and, consequently, our sales. If we succeed in developing clients for our services and generating sufficient sales, we will become profitable. We cannot guarantee that this will ever occur. Our plan is to build our company in any manner which will be successful.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We have no off-balance sheet arrangements with any party.

Plan of Operation.

Our plan for the twelve months beginning October 1, 2012 is to operate at a profit or at break even. Our plan is to attract sufficient additional product sales and services within our present organizational structure and resources to become profitable in our operations.

Our intended business will be to develop and market music based on technology solutions. We plan to offer exclusive artist music from established artists, direct for targeted demographics, on a global basis through the Internet. We plan to use the music as a marketing tool for future sales in a captured market via live performance festivals worldwide. The live festivals will act as a promotional vehicle as well as a significant revenue machine.

The current business plans include:

- Technology for delivery of music product using standard available engineered systems
- Music product and artists
- Wireless technologies and equipment sales
- Live festival marketing events

Each component is planned to be developed as simultaneously as possible. We will first start by developing the artists and music products. We will then use this talent to deliver the products through wireless technologies and product sales. We will also use festival marketing events to promote our products.

From our inception on November 6, 2007 through September 30, 2012, we have generated no revenue and no operations. We have only one location in the Denver Metropolitan area. We currently have no plans to expand into other locations or areas, although we eventually plan to operate on a global basis through the Internet. The timing of the completion of the milestones needed to become profitable is not directly dependent on anything except our ability to develop sufficient revenues. We believe that we can achieve profitability as we are presently organized with sufficient business. Our principal cost will be marketing our product. At this point, we do not know the scope of our potential marketing costs but will use our existing resources to market our product.

If we are not successful in our operations we will be faced with several options:

1. Cease operations and go out of business (which would mean closing the company and having the shareholders lose all or most of their investment);

2. Continue to seek alternative and acceptable sources of capital (Mr. Castillo is currently our only source of financing. We would look to alternative sources, if available);

3. Bring in additional capital that may result in a change of control(if we seek additional sources of capital, all shareholders would potentially be diluted, perhaps to the point of a change of control); or

4. Identify a candidate for acquisition that seeks access to the public marketplace and its financing sources(we might explore potential acquisition candidates, although we have no such candidates at this time)

Currently, we believe that we have sufficient capital to implement our proposed business operations or to sustain them through September 30, 2012. If we can become profitable, we could operate at our present level indefinitely. To date, we have never had any discussions with any possible acquisition candidate nor have we any intention of doing so.

Proposed Milestones to Implement Business Operations

At the present time, we plan to operate from one location in the Denver Metropolitan area. Our plan is to make our operation profitable by December 31, 2013. We estimate that we must generate approximately $25,000 in sales per year to be profitable. Our plan is to attract sufficient product sales and services within our present organizational structure and resources to become profitable in our operations.

We believe that we can be profitable or at break even by the end of the current fiscal year, assuming sufficient sales. Based upon our current plans, we have adjusted our operating expenses so that cash generated from operations and from working capital financing is expected to be sufficient for the foreseeable future to fund our operations at our currently forecasted levels. To try to operate at a break-even level based upon our current level of anticipated business activity, we believe that we must generate approximately $25,000 in revenue per year. However, if our forecasts are inaccurate, we may need to raise additional funds. On the other hand, we may choose to scale back our operations to operate at break-even with a smaller level of business activity, while adjusting our overhead to meet the revenue from current operations. In addition, we expect that we will need to raise additional funds if we decide to pursue more rapid expansion, the development of new or enhanced services and products, appropriate responses to competitive pressures, or the acquisition of complementary businesses or technologies, or if we must respond to unanticipated events that require us to make additional investments. We cannot assure that additional financing will be available when needed on favorable terms, or at all.

We expect to incur operating losses in future periods because we will be incurring expenses and not generating sufficient revenues. We expect approximately $25,000 in operating costs over the next twelve months. We cannot guarantee that we will be successful in generating sufficient revenues or other funds in the future to cover these operating costs. Failure to generate sufficient revenues or additional financing when needed could cause us to go out of business

There is no assurance that additional funds will be made available to us on terms that will be acceptable, or at all, if and when needed. We expect to generate and increase sales, but there can be no assurance we will generate sales sufficient to continue operations or to expand.

We also are planning to rely on the possibility of referrals from clients and will strive to satisfy our clients. We believe that referrals will be an effective form of advertising because of the quality of service that we bring to clients. We believe that satisfied clients will bring more and repeat clients.

In the next 12 months, we do not intend to spend any material funds on research and development and do not intend to purchase any large equipment.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements.

We do not expect the adoption of any recently issued accounting pronouncements to have a significant impact on our net results of operations, financial position, or cash flows.

Seasonality.

We do not expect our revenues to be impacted by seasonal demands for our services.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK.

None.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Not applicable.

ITEM 4T. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES
