Summarized Analysis of Adjusted Income

Adjusted Net income and Profitability

In the fourth quarter of 2012, Bradesco posted adjusted net income of R$2,918 million, up 0.9%, or R$25 million, on the previous quarter, mainly driven by: (i) greater fee and commission income arising from the increase in business volume, (ii) greater financial margin income, due to increased revenues from interest and non-interest installments; (iii) lower allowance for loan loss expenses; partially offset by: (iv) greater personnel and administrative expenses; and (v) increase of other operating expenses (net of other operating revenues).

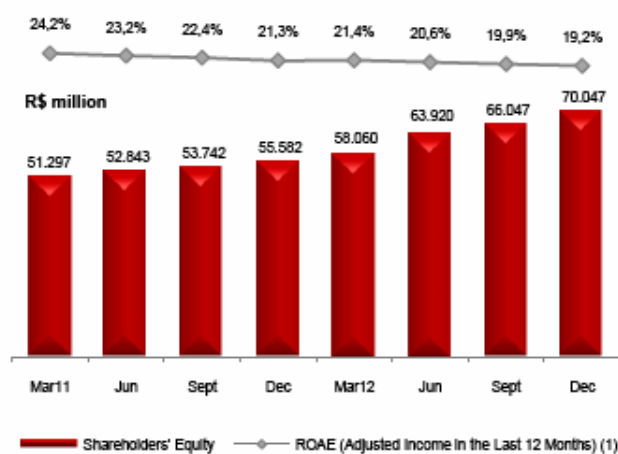

In the year-over-year comparison, adjusted net income increased by R$325 million, or 2.9%, in 2012, for Return on Average Shareholders' Equity (ROAE) of 19.2%.

Shareholders' Equity stood at R$70,047 million in December 2012, up 26.0% over the same period of 2011. This increase is partially due to the surplus value of some securities reclassified from Held to Maturity to Available for Sale for adoption of CPCs 38 and 40 by the Insurance Group. The Capital Adequacy Ratio stood at 16.1%, 11.0% of which fell under Tier I Reference Shareholders' Equity.

Total Assets came to R$879,092 million in December 2012, up 15.4% over December 2011, driven by the increase in operations and the expansion of business volume. Return on Average Assets (ROAA) remained stable at 1.4%.

Summarized Analysis of Adjusted Income

Efficiency Ratio (ER)

The Efficiency Ratio in the last 12 months⁽¹⁾ improved by 0.6 p.p. for the fourth consecutive quarter, reaching 41.5% in the fourth quarter of 2012, the lowest recorded in the last ten quarters. The improvement was mainly driven by: (i) the growth in financial margin; and (ii) the increase in fee and commission income, which was mainly due to an increase in average business volume, resulting from investments in accelerated organic growth, which began in the second half of 2011, combined with the ongoing cost control efforts, the Efficiency Committee actions and investments in IT.

Quarterly ER was up 2.6 p.p. over the same period in the previous year, as a result of: (i) the control of administrative and personnel expenses, which remained virtually stable despite the strong organic growth recorded in the period; and (ii) greater fee and commission income and financial margin income, up by 14.4% and 8.3%, respectively.

The “adjusted to risk” ER, which reflects the impact of risk associated with loan operations⁽²⁾, reached 52.7% in the fourth quarter of 2012, a 0.4 p.p. increase over the previous quarter, mainly due to the abovementioned events and the delinquency ratio trend in the last quarter.

(1) ER = (Personnel Expenses - Employee Profit Sharing + Administrative Expenses) / (Financial Margin + Fee and Commission Income + Income from Insurance + Equity in the Earnings (Losses) of Unconsolidated Companies + Other Operating Income - Other Operating Expenses). Considering the ratio between: (i) total administrative costs (Personnel Expenses + Administrative Expenses + Other Operating Expenses + Tax Expenses not related to revenue generation + Insurance Selling Expenses) and (ii) revenue net of related taxes (not considering Claims and Selling Expenses from the Insurance Group), our ER in the fourth quarter of 2012 would be 44.6%; and

(2) Including ALL expenses, adjusted for granted discounts, loan recovery and sale of foreclosed assets, among others.

Summarized Analysis of Adjusted Income

Financial Margin

The R$154 million increase between the fourth quarter of 2012 and the third quarter of 2012 was mainly due to:

- greater gains from the non-interest margin, in the amount of R$79 million, mainly due to higher gains from treasury/security margin; and
- a R$75 million increase in interest-earning operations, mainly due to higher gains from (i) "Insurance" and (ii) "Loan" margins.

- a R$4,351 million increase in income from interest-earning operations due to an increase in business volume, mainly from: (i) "Loans;" and (ii) "Securities/Other;" and
- greater income from the non-interest margin, in the amount of R$121 million, due to higher "Insurance" gains.

Financial margin posted a R$4,472 million improvement between 2012 and 2011, for growth of 11.4%, mainly driven by:

The annualized interest financial margin rate stood at 7.3% in the fourth quarter of 2012, down 0.1 p.p. on the previous quarter, mainly due to: (i) the reduction in the average "Loan" margin rate, which was impacted by the decrease in interest rates in effect, together with the change in the mix of the loan portfolio; and (ii) the increased average "Insurance" margin rate, as a result of the lower quarter-on-quarter IGP-M rate, which resulted in lower expenses with the adjustment for inflation of part of the technical reserves.

Fee and Commission Income

In the fourth quarter of 2012, fee and commission income came to R$4,675 million, up R$237 million, or 5.3%, over the previous quarter, due to the increase in business volume. This result was due to: (i) an increase in income from cards; (ii) greater gains from capital market operations (underwriting / financial advisory); (iii) an increase in income from checking accounts; and partially offset by lower income from: (iv) loan operations; and (v) fund management.

In the year-over-year comparison, the increase of R$2,289 million, or 15.0%, in fee and commission income was mainly due to: (i) the performance of the credit card segment, driven by the growth in credit card base, revenue and transactions; (ii) higher income from checking accounts, which was a result of a better business volume and an increase in the checking account holder base, which posted net growth of 583 thousand accounts in the period; (iii) greater income from fund management, whose volume of assets and portfolios under management increased by 31.7% in the period; (iv) greater gains from capital market operations (underwriting / financial advisory); (v) greater income from collections; and (vi) greater income from loan operations, resulting from an increase in volume of contracted operations and surety and guarantee operations.

Personnel Expenses

In the fourth quarter of 2012, the R$23 million increase from the previous quarter was mainly composed of the variation in structural expenses, due to greater expenses with salaries, social charges and benefits, as a result of the raise in salary levels, as determined by the 2012 collective bargaining agreement.

In the year-over-year comparison, the R$1,125 million increase is mainly due to the variation in structural expenses, resulting from increased expenses with salaries, social charges and benefits, due to: (i) raise in salary levels, as per 2011 and 2012 collective bargaining agreements; and (ii) net increase in number of employees in the second half of 2011, as a result of organic growth.

Note: Structural Expenses = Salaries + Social Charges + Benefits + Pension Plans.

Non-Structural Expenses = Employee and Management Profit Sharing + Training + Labor Provision + Costs with Termination of Employment + Contracts.

Summarized Analysis of Adjusted Income

Administrative Expenses

In the fourth quarter of 2012, the 5.3% increase in administrative expenses from the previous quarter was mainly a result of greater expenses with: (i) marketing and advertising, due to higher investments in actions targeting institutional positioning maintenance and support to offer loan products (real estate, vehicles, personal loan); and (ii) increase in business and service volume in the quarter.

In the year-over-year comparison, the 5.6% increase was mainly due to: (i) the increase in business and services volume in the period; (ii) contractual adjustments; and (iii) organic growth as of the second half of 2011, with the opening of 9,196 service points, mainly the increase to 8,214 Bradesco Expresso points, for a total of 68,917 service points on December 31, 2012; which was partially offset by lower expenses with: (iv) outsourced services; and (v) marketing and advertising.

Other Operating Income and Expenses

Other operating expenses, net of other operating income, totaled R$1,130 million in the fourth quarter of 2012, up R$76 million over the previous quarter, and R$813 million in comparison with 2011.

Summarized Analysis of Adjusted Income

In the year-over-year comparison, the increase in these expenses is mainly the result of: (i) greater taxable result in the period; and (ii) the termination of tax credits resulting from the increase in the social contribution rate from 9% to 15% in the first quarter of 2011

Unrealized Gains

Unrealized gains totaled R$24,880 million in the fourth quarter of 2012, a R$3,784 million increase from the previous quarter. This was mainly due to the appreciation of fixed-income securities due to mark-to-market accounting.

Economic Scenario

The fourth quarter of 2012 is considered to have marked the beginning of the global economic recovery, with the resumption of albeit modest growth following the lower development between July and September. At the beginning of 2013, the risk of an imminent recession in the United States was averted thanks to the Congressional agreement over the so-called fiscal cliff. However, the structural issues relating to public spending were not addressed, but put on hold for a few months, in an increasingly polarized political climate. The eurozone is showing signs of stabilization, given that the risk of a collapse has subsided and Germany's position vis-à-vis the peripheral nations has softened somewhat, and the same can be said for China, which is undergoing a smooth political transition and focusing economic growth more on the domestic market.

The risks to the global economy remain asymmetrically negative, but are manageable and currently regarded as being milder than those affecting most of 2012. Consequently, the prospects for the external aspects of Brazil's economy are favorable, whether from the point of view of trade, the absence of inflationary pressure, or abrupt reductions in international liquidity in the coming months.

The Brazilian economy also continues to recover at a modest pace, but it is already clear that the second half of 2012 was better than the first, thanks to the multiple stimulus measures introduced by means of various economic policy channels and instruments. The results of these stimuli are expected to become even more apparent in the coming quarters, resulting in greater economic growth in 2013 than estimated for 2012. In addition, certain atypical factors that affected the last few quarters are expected to dissipate, including the change in truck emission standards (and the resulting impact on production and sales), crop failures in certain regions of the country, and the inventory adjustment in the residential real estate sector, as well as the increasing and often immeasurable chance of disruptions in the international economy, which jeopardized the decisions of the economic agents, particularly in regard to investments. None of these factors are expected to be present in 2013, which should help the stimulus measures to achieve their maximum effectiveness.

The return to normal industrial and retail inventories in 2013 should permit the resumption of industrial production, against a backdrop of strong growth in family consumption, fueled by the expansion of jobs and income. The excellent domestic agricultural and livestock prospects are also worth emphasizing, as is their positive impact on the economies of small and medium-sized cities.

Brazil continues to make institutional progress, exemplified by the recent adoption of new policies addressing structural issues, such as infrastructure and reducing production costs. In the coming years, pre-salt exploration and the hosting of major sports events represent a privileged set of opportunities that are only available to a select group of nations. Given all these favorable prospects, it is vital to maintain the kind of healthy macroeconomic policies whose implementation over the past two decades has resulted in increased growth and a more equitable income distribution.

Bradesco is maintaining its positive long-term outlook for the country. With interest rates at an all-time low, the volume of credit is growing at rates that are both sustainable and risk-compatible, a factor that has set the national financial system apart from those in several other countries in the last few years. As a result of the intense and ongoing upward social mobility Brazil is experiencing – which despite creating challenges for producers and service providers, broadens the consumer base and increases business scale – the prospects for the banking and insurance sectors remain highly favorable.
