PNC LONG-SHORT MASTER FUND LLC
 FUND COMMENTARY
 SEPTEMBER 30, 2007

 DEAR MEMBERS:

PNC Long-Short Master Fund* (the "Fund"), formerly Mercantile Long-Short Manager Master Fund, returned 4.89%, net of all fees, expenses and incentive allocations, for the six months ended September 30, 2007 (the "Reporting Period").

The Fund produced positive returns in four of the six months during the Reporting Period, continuing to meet its objectives and provide investors global equity exposure with less risk than a traditional "long-only" global equity strategy.

In general, economic and market conditions proved challenging to the Fund's managers' efforts. Several of our managers produced disappointing results during the mid-July to mid-August equity market sell-off when the subprime mortgage fallout spread and markets underwent a brutal re-pricing of risk and credit. These managers were impacted through their long equity position bias and, in some cases, levered long-bias portfolios. Also, non-equity managers, such as the Fund's trading and relative value managers, that had been originally added to the Fund because of their attractive return potential and historically low correlation to the markets, did not prove to be diversifiers for the Fund during the recent market stress. All told, the July through August period was the second largest drawdown in the history of the Fund.

On the positive side, for the Reporting Period overall, several sub-fund managers were able to take advantage of increasing opportunities internationally; some successfully profited from the strength in commodity stocks; and some actually generated meaningful short-side profits amidst the subprime mortgage market turmoil. It is worth noting that the Fund gained 8.82%, net of all fees, expenses and incentive allocations, on an annualized basis since its inception on December 27, 2002.

MARKET AND ECONOMIC REVIEW

Equity markets, both in the U.S. and internationally, generally produced positive returns for the Reporting Period, although the final return figures mask the degree of volatility experienced.

The second calendar quarter as a whole was strong, as positive corporate earnings surprises, an increasing number of merger and acquisition deals and a solid economic backdrop buoyed investor sentiment for stocks. Still, returns were negative in June virtually across the equity market spectrum. Then the last few months of the period were characterized by unprecedented intraday volatility in the stock market. Most global equity indices started off July with gains, before U.S. subprime mortgage problems sent shockwaves throughout the financial system, and volatility in the debt markets quickly infected equity markets around the world. The sharp sell-off lasted from mid-July through mid-August. Due to the general re-pricing of risk and dramatic de-leveraging that occurred at this time, it became clear that many hedge fund strategies were much more correlated than previously thought. In September, the stock market cheered a move by the Federal Reserve Board (the Fed) to cut interest rates by a surprising half a percentage point. As the stock market advanced strongly in September, commodity markets also continued their robust rallies, with the price of gold rising to its highest level since 1980 and crude oil trading at new all-time highs, surpassing the $80 per barrel milestone.

FUND REVIEW

As Investment Adviser, we carefully evaluated the Fund's strategies and strategy allocation throughout the Reporting Period and made changes in an effort to further diversify the portfolio for enhanced risk management and increased potential returns. As of September 30, 2007, there were 16 managers in the Fund, as we redeemed four managers and added five during the Reporting Period. Of the 16 hedge funds in the Fund at the end of September 2007, 11 generated positive returns during the Reporting Period. Of the redeemed managers, each of whom contributed to returns during the six months, all four generated positive returns. In all, the managers in the Fund employed seven strategies over the course of the Reporting Period, including two new strategies added to the Fund and several strategies that were reclassified. Of the seven strategies in use, six generated positive returns during the Reporting Period.

- o INTERNATIONAL HEDGED EQUITY AND OPPORTUNISTIC GLOBAL CREDIT STRATEGIES - With four managers in this area during the Reporting Period, the international strategies component was the best performing group. The group was led by Horseman Global Fund, L.P. ("Horseman"), the Fund's best performing manager of any component during the Reporting Period. Horseman is a global long/short equity fund with sizable exposure to the energy sector and other commodity-related stocks that benefited from rising oil and gas prices and Asia's growing demand for commodities. Kingdon Associates, another global long/short equity fund manager, also performed well, given both its long positions in emerging market utilities and infrastructure companies, which benefited from global economic growth, and its short position in U.S. homebuilders. Effective September 30, 2007, we redeemed Andromeda Global Credit Fund, L.P., an opportunistic global fixed income manager that was added to the Fund in May 2007. We also shifted Centaurus Alpha Fund, L.P. from the now-dissolved event-driven strategy group into this group given its European equity-focused strategy. All told, the Fund's allocation to international hedged equity and opportunistic global credit strategies went from 22.8% at the start of the Reporting Period to 29.3% at the end of September 2007.
- o SECTOR HEDGED EQUITY STRATEGIES - Sector hedged equity strategies are strategies that focus on specific sectors of the markets, such as telecommunications, healthcare, real estate, energy or technology. Typically both long and short strategies will be used to target positive returns. With four managers in this component contributing to returns during the Reporting Period, the sector hedged equity strategies as a group was another strong performer for the Fund. The best performer within this group was TCS Capital II, L.P. ("TCS"), the Fund's media/ telecommunications manager. TCS benefited from renewed interest in media and telecommunications stocks, driven primarily by News Corp's headline-making bid for Dow Jones. While TCS did not directly own an established "old media" company like Dow Jones, the takeover activity buoyed the entire sector. Strong performers for TCS during the Reporting Period did include aQuantive, which was bought by Microsoft; Dobson Communications, which was bought by AT&T; and Central European Media. Effective June 30, 2007, we redeemed Basswood Financial Partners, L.P. ("Basswood"), the Fund's financials manager, as it continued to have a major contrarian bet on the resurgence of homebuilders and other housing-related equities. To date, this bet has just been plain wrong and cost Basswood two years of performance in a roaring value market. We also redeemed Basswood because a key member of its investment team left the firm, and its investor relations effort suffered during the transition. The Fund's allocation to this component shifted from 32.5% at March 31, 2007 to 26.9% at September 30, 2007.

PNC LONG-SHORT MASTER FUND LLC
FUND COMMENTARY
SEPTEMBER 30, 2007

- o TRADING STRATEGIES - Trading strategies, formerly classified as specialty/macro strategies, generally employ investments in equity, debt, currencies and commodities across multiple sectors, economies, market capitalizations and more based on macroeconomic modeling. These strategies as a whole produced solid positive returns for the Fund during the Reporting Period. Cipher Composite Fund, L.P. ("Cipher"), a systematic commodity trading adviser, particularly profited from stock index and currency trading. The DAX Index, Taiwan Index and Canadian dollar were Cipher's best performing contracts, especially during the second calendar quarter. Peak Select Partners L.P., the Fund's global macro manager that trades commodities, fixed income, currencies and equities, also performed well based on its bullish position in equities and commodities. Discretionary positions in oil field service stocks contributed to its returns as did its position in the soybeans market and a position in the Brazilian real. The trading strategies component of the Fund went from 7.4% at the end of March 2007 to 6.5% at the end of September 2007.

- o EVENT HEDGED EQUITY STRATEGIES - Event hedged equity is a new strategy for the Fund during the Reporting Period that we believe should complement the other strategies being employed. Event hedged equity strategies, in general, are approaches that seek to benefit from merger arbitrage, equity restructurings, spin-offs, stub trades, asset sales and liquidations. This strategy was a solid performer for the Reporting Period and especially during the difficult July-August span. We added three managers to the Fund to comprise this component. Owl Creek II, L.P. ("Owl Creek") is an opportunistic, event-driven, bottom-up global portfolio. As value investors, its objective is to find "a dollar selling for fifty cents." The portfolio began with significant allocations to debt and transitioned to equity as credit spreads tightened. Owl Creek also has a significant allocation to Asia, providing the Fund some geographic diversification. Added to the Fund effective July 1, Owl Creek was the best performer in July due primarily to its investments in Hong Kong and Japan. Also effective July 1, we added Castlerigg Partners, L.P. ("Castlerigg"), a global event-driven portfolio that invests primarily in risk arbitrage and event-driven distressed situations, including mergers, acquisitions, spin-offs, reorganizations, liquidations and bankruptcies. Castlerigg takes a flexible and defensive approach designed to be responsive and opportunistic. The third manager added to the Fund in this group, effective August 1, was Harbinger Capital Partners Fund I, L.P. ("Harbinger"). Harbinger manages a long/short event/distressed investment strategy. It seeks to provide investors with superior risk-adjusted total returns by investing in equity, distressed and high yield/special situation securities on both the long and short sides, focusing on turnarounds, restructurings, liquidations, event-driven situations and inter-capital structure arbitrage. Harbinger produced outstanding returns in August 2007 and was able to profit during the subprime mortgage debacle based on its short subprime mortgage and corporate credit positions. For example, Harbinger bought protection on individual pools of subprime mortgages, where it could target specific regions and zip codes that could be especially hard-hit. These pools trade less frequently and their daily prices are influenced more by fundamentals like actual default activity rather than by market sentiment. At the end of September 2007, event hedged equity strategies comprised 11.5% of the Fund's net assets.

- o CREDIT STRATEGIES - Credit strategies may consist of several investment categories within the credit space, including leveraged loans, distressed debt and other special situations such as secured aircraft loans, municipal bonds, real estate and high yield securities. Credit strategy was another new strategy for the Fund, established on September 1 with the addition of Camulos Partners LP ("Camulos"). Camulos is a multi-strategy credit and special situations fund, whose investment objective is to achieve long-term capital growth primarily through investing in a range of credits, loans and special situation debt securities mostly in North America and Europe. While the Fund is designed to have a predominantly long/short equity mandate, it does have the flexibility to invest up to 20% in other strategies, and we believe credit is increasingly attractive currently, given the dislocation in the credit markets and the opportunity to purchase well-secured loans at widened spreads and at significant discounts to par. The Fund's allocation to credit strategies was 1.7% at the end of the Reporting Period.

- o U.S. HEDGED EQUITY STRATEGIES - Formally classified as general hedged equity strategies, this component generally involves taking a secondary position with the expressed purpose of counterbalancing a known risk involved with a primary position. This can be accomplished by taking positions in specifically related securities for specific risks or by purchasing index options for market risks. During the Reporting Period, the U.S. hedged equity strategies performed poorly, and we made several changes within the component. Effective June 30, we redeemed both Newcastle Partners, L.P. ("Newcastle") and Eden Capital Partners, L.P. ("Eden"). Newcastle missed out on superior returns in equity value strategies in 2005 and 2006 and also had an outsized position that dominated its portfolio. We prefer managers with a more balanced portfolio and were also seeking to reduce the Fund's U.S. small-cap value exposure. Like Basswood mentioned above, Eden saw good value in home builders and subprime mortgage lenders earlier this year, a view that backfired. Eden also lost ground during the Reporting Period shorting energy stocks. Eden's sub-par performance and our effort to reduce exposure to U.S. small-cap equities led to its redemption. Effective July 1, we added Blue Harbour Strategic Value Partners, L.P. ("Blue Harbour"). Blue Harbour manages a value-oriented, event-driven investment strategy focusing on companies that are or should be implementing strategic change. Blue Harbour uses a strategy perhaps best described as "friendly activism," taking a private equity approach to public company investing wherein it seeks to capitalize on the managing principal's extensive investment experience and network of relationships. Blue Harbour's manager also seeks to add alpha by making collaborations with company managements to craft steps that may increase the company's share price. During the Reporting Period, this component as a whole performed poorly because both Blue Harbour and Searock Capital Partners (QP), LP ("Searock"), a long/short equity manager schooled in SAC Capital-style trading, struggled with problems in the credit markets. Many stocks in the Blue Harbour portfolio were likely candidates for leveraged buyouts and, as such, took a tumble in July and August when the credit markets froze because completion of these transactions typically involves significant debt financing. Searock was also invested in a number of these so-called "deal stocks" that lost their takeout premium during the third calendar quarter. Given the combined effect of manager performance and the changes we made among managers, the U.S. hedged equity strategy component of the Fund went from 25.3% at the close of March 2007 to 18.9% at the end of September 2007.

- o RELATIVE VALUE STRATEGIES - The worst-performing strategy component for the Fund and the only strategy component to generate negative returns during the Reporting Period was relative value. Municipal bond arbitrage manager Duration Municipal Fund, LP ("Duration"), formerly a manager within the now-dissolved event driven strategies component of the Fund, suffered a significant drawdown in August due to a notable cheapening in long-term municipal bonds, which was subsequently magnified by leverage. Indeed, municipal bond arbitrage overall quietly imploded in August, as municipal bonds cheapened based on dealer selling, forced sales from hedge funds, worries about the credit quality of reinsurers and mutual fund outflows. Duration accepted new capital to reduce leverage and to ensure it would be able to fully participate when the market normalizes. The municipal bond market and Duration rebounded somewhat in September. The Fund's allocation to this component stood at 4.6% at the close of the Reporting Period.

STRATEGY AHEAD

Certainly, Fund performance was disappointing during the Reporting Period. That is why over the last six months, we have been engaged in an effort to increase the Fund's returns by further diversifying its strategies and making changes among our lineup of managers. While we believe the Fund is now increasingly well diversified by strategy, geography, sector and market capitalization, as Investment Adviser, we are always seeking new ways to enhance such diversification. Currently, we are focused on conducting due diligence on managers specializing in Asia and/or in the natural resources sector.

Sincerely,

ADVANTAGE ADVISERS MANAGEMENT, LLC

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)
SIX-MONTH PERIOD ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2007

1. ORGANIZATION

PNC Long-Short Master Fund LLC (formerly Mercantile Long-Short Manager Master Fund LLC), the "Master Fund", is a limited liability company organized under the laws of the state of Delaware and registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "1940 Act") as a closed-end, non-diversified, investment management company. The Master Fund was formed on August 4, 2005 with operations commencing upon the transfer of $47,654,658 (comprised of $46,831,482 of fund investments, $727,501 of cash, and $95,675 of receivable from fund investments sold) from PNC Long-Short Fund LLC (formerly Mercantile Long-Short Manager Fund LLC) on July 1, 2006. Unrealized appreciation on the fund investments of $12,294,453 was included in the transfer. The Master Fund is a "master" fund within a "master-feeder" structure. Within this structure, one or more feeder funds invest all or substantially all of their investable assets in a master fund. The feeder funds' investment objectives are substantially the same as those of the Master Fund.

The Master Fund's investment objective is to seek equity-like capital appreciation while attempting to limit risk through the use of a multi-strategy, multi-manager, diversified investment philosophy principally by investing in investment vehicles, typically referred to as hedge funds ("Investment Funds") managed by third-party investment managers ("Investment Managers") who employ a variety of alternative investment strategies that have either a low correlation with the equity and fixed income markets, or that, when balanced with other strategies, lower the correlation of the Master Fund's total performance to the equity and fixed income markets. The primary focus is in hedged equity strategies though there may also be investments in debt and other instruments. Investments may include long/short equity strategies that encompass general, sector-specific, international, emerging markets, and short-biased strategies. In addition to hedged equity, the Master Fund may also invest in opportunistic hedge funds that utilize distressed and event driven strategies.

The Master Fund's Board of Directors (the "Board") has overall responsibility to manage and control the business operations of the Master Fund on behalf of the members. At least a majority of the Board consists of persons who are not "interested persons" (as defined in the 1940 Act).

PNC Capital Advisors, Inc. (formerly Mercantile Capital Advisors, Inc.), the "Manager", is the investment manager of the Master Fund and oversees the management of the day-to-day operations of the Master Fund under the supervision of the Master Fund's Board. The Manager is registered as an investment adviser under the Advisers Act of 1940 (the "Advisers Act") and is a corporation formed under the laws of the State of Maryland. The Manager was a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mercantile-Safe Deposit and Trust Company, which, in turn, was wholly-owned by Mercantile Bankshares Corporation ("Mercantile Bankshares"). On March 2, 2007, Mercantile Bankshares merged into and with The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. ("PNC"). As a result of the merger, the Manager is now indirectly wholly-owned by PNC, a financial holding company. The acquisition by PNC of the indirect controlling interest in the Manager resulted in an "assignment," as that term is defined in the 1940 Act, of the prior investment management agreement which automatically terminated in accordance with its terms. The Manager continued to provide investment management services to the Master Fund under an interim investment management agreement (the "Interim Investment Management Agreement") approved by the Board of Directors, from March 2, 2007 until July 20, 2007, until the members approved the new investment management agreement.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)
SIX-MONTH PERIOD ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2007

The Manager has delegated its responsibilities for formulating a continuing investment program for the Master Fund and investment decisions regarding the purchases and withdrawals of interests in the Investment Funds to Advantage Advisers Management LLC (the "Adviser"). The Adviser is registered as an investment adviser under the Advisers Act.

Generally, initial and additional subscriptions for limited liability company interests ("Interests") by eligible members may be accepted at such times as the Master Fund may determine. The Master Fund reserves the right to reject any subscriptions for Interests in the Master Fund. The Master Fund from time to time may offer to repurchase outstanding Interests pursuant to written tenders by members. These repurchases will be made at such times and on such terms as may be determined by the Board, in its complete and absolute discretion.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Master Fund's financial statements are prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The following is a summary of the significant accounting policies followed by the Master Fund:

A. PORTFOLIO VALUATION

The net asset value of the Master Fund is determined as of the close of business at the end of each month in accordance with the valuation principles set forth below or as may be determined from time to time pursuant to policies established by the Board.

The net asset value of the Master Fund equals the value of the Master Fund's assets less the Master Fund's liabilities, including accrued fees and expenses. The Master Fund's investments in the Investment Funds are considered to be illiquid and can only be redeemed periodically. The Board has approved procedures pursuant to which the Master Fund values its investments in Investment Funds at fair value. In accordance with these procedures, the fair value of investments in Investment Funds, as of each month-end ordinarily is the value determined as of such month-end for each Investment Fund in accordance with each Investment Fund's valuation policies and reported at the time of the Master Fund's valuation. As a general matter, the fair value of the Master Fund's interest in an Investment Fund will represent the amount that the Master Fund could reasonably expect to receive from an Investment Fund if the Master Fund's ownership interest was redeemed at the time of valuation, based on information reasonably available at the time the valuation is made and that the Master Fund believes to be reliable. In the event that an Investment Fund does not report a month-end value to the Master Fund on a timely basis or the Adviser concludes that the value provided by the Investment Fund does not represent the fair value of the Master Fund's interest in the Investment Fund, the Master Fund would determine the fair value of such Investment Fund based on the most recent value reported by the Investment Fund, as well as any other relevant information available at such time.

Considerable judgment is required to interpret the factors used to develop estimates of fair value. Accordingly, the estimates may not be indicative of the amounts the Master Fund could realize in a current market exchange and the differences could be material to the financial statements. The use of different factors or estimation methodologies could have a significant effect on the estimated fair value. The values assigned to these investments are based on available information and do not necessarily represent amounts that might ultimately be realized, as such amounts depend on future circumstances and cannot reasonably be determined until the individual investments are actually liquidated.

SIX-MONTH PERIOD ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2007

B. INCOME RECOGNITION AND SECURITY TRANSACTIONS

Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Realized gains and losses from Investment Fund transactions are calculated on the identified cost basis. Investments are recorded on the effective date of the subscription in the Investment Fund.

Distributions from Investment Funds, if any, will be classified as investment income or realized gains in the Statement of Operations, or alternatively, as a decrease to the cost of the investments based on the U.S. income tax characteristics of the distribution if such information is available. In cases where the tax characteristics of a distribution from an Investment Fund are not available, such distribution will be classified as investment income.

C. FUND EXPENSES

The Master Fund bears all expenses incurred in its business. The expenses of the Master Fund include, but are not limited to, the following: all costs and expenses related to investment transactions and positions for the Master Fund's account; legal fees; accounting and auditing fees; custodian fees; costs of computing the Master Fund's net asset value; costs of insurance; expenses of meetings of the Board and members; all costs with respect to communications to members; and other types of expenses as may be approved from time to time by the Board.

The managers of the Investment Funds in which the Master Fund invests also receive fees for their services. These fees include management fees based upon the net asset value of the Master Fund's investment and an incentive or performance fee based upon the Master Fund's share of net profits in the Investment Fund. For the period ended September 30, 2007, fees for these services ranged from 1% to 3% annually for management fees and were 20% annually for the performance or incentive allocations.

D. INCOME TAXES

The Master Fund intends to operate and has elected to be treated as a partnership for Federal income tax purposes. Each member is individually responsible for the tax liability or benefit relating to their distributive share of taxable income or loss. Accordingly, no provision for Federal income taxes is reflected in the accompanying financial statements.

On behalf of non-U.S. Members, the Master Fund withholds and pays taxes on U.S. source income allocated from Investment Funds.

E. INVESTMENT IN REGISTERED INVESTMENT COMPANY

The Fund invests in a registered investment company, SEI Daily Income Trust Money Market Fund, for cash management purposes. At September 30, 2007 this investment consisted of 305,337 shares which amounted to 0.5% of net assets.

F. SEGREGATED INVESTMENTS

Certain investments can be segregated to finance the repurchase of Interests from tender offers.

G. CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

Net profits or net losses of the Master Fund for each fiscal period will be allocated to the capital accounts of members as of the last day of each fiscal period in accordance with members' respective investment percentages of the Master Fund. Net profits or net losses will be measured as the net change in the value of the net assets of the Master Fund during a fiscal period, before giving effect to any repurchases of interest in the Master Fund, and excluding the amount of any items to be allocated to the capital accounts of the members of the Master Fund, other than in accordance with the members' respective investment percentages.

H. USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires the Manager to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reported period. The Manager believes that the estimates utilized in preparing the Master Fund's financial statements are reasonable and prudent; however, actual results could differ from these estimates.

3. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

A. MANAGEMENT FEE

The Master Fund pays the Manager a quarterly management fee at the annual rate of 1.25% of the net asset value of the Master Fund as of the last day of the quarter including assets attributable to the Manager and before giving effect to any repurchases by the Master Fund. The Manager pays the Adviser half of the management fees earned from the Master Fund.

B. FEES EARNED UNDER THE INTERIM INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT AGREEMENTS

Under the Interim Investment Management Agreement, the management fees earned by the Manager for services provided during March 2, 2007 to July 19, 2007 were held in an interest bearing escrow account. A majority of the Fund's outstanding voting securities approved the new investment management agreement, dated July 20, 2007, and as a result the amount in the escrow account for the Fund (including any interest earned) was paid to the Manager.

C. ADMINISTRATION AND OTHER FEES

The Master Fund has also retained the Manager to serve as the administrator and pays the Manager an administration fee. The Manager has retained SEI Investments Global Funds Services ("SEI") to serve as sub-administrator whereby SEI provides administrative and accounting, and investor services as well as serves in the capacity of transfer and distribution disbursing agent for the Master Fund. As compensation for services provided, the Manager pays SEI a fee pursuant to a written agreement between the Manager and SEI.

SEI Private Trust Company serves as custodian for the Master Fund's assets.

SIX-MONTH PERIOD ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2007

D. BOARD FEES

Each Board member receives an annual retainer of $6,500 plus a fee for each meeting attended. The chairman of the Board also receives an additional annual fee of $3,333. The Master Fund also reimburses the Board members for all reasonable out of pocket expenses. Total amounts incurred related to Board meetings by the Master Fund for the period ended September 30, 2007 were $28,350.

4. CONCENTRATION OF RISK

The Master Fund invests primarily in Investment Funds that are not registered under the 1940 Act and invest in and actively trade securities and other financial instruments using different strategies and investment techniques, including leverage, which may involve significant risks. These Investment Funds may invest a high percentage of their assets in specific sectors of the market in order to achieve a potentially greater investment return. As a result, the Investment Funds may be more susceptible to economic, political, and regulatory developments in a particular sector of the market, positive or negative, and may experience increased volatility of the Investment Funds' net asset value.

Various risks are also associated with an investment in the Master Fund, including risks relating to the multi-manager structure of the Master Fund, risks relating to compensation arrangements and risks relating to limited liquidity.

5. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS WITH OFF-BALANCE SHEET RISK

In the normal course of business, the Investment Funds in which the Master Fund invests trade various financial instruments and enter into various investment activities with off-balance sheet risk. These include, but are not limited to, short selling activities, writing option contracts, contracts for differences, and interest rate, credit default and total return equity swaps contracts. The Master Fund's risk of loss in these Investment Funds is limited to the value of these investments reported by the Master Fund. The Master Fund itself does not invest directly in securities with off-balance sheet risk.

6. GUARANTOR OBLIGATIONS AND INDEMNIFICATIONS

In the normal course of business the Master Fund enters into contracts that contain a variety of warranties and representations, which provide general indemnifications. The Master Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Master Fund that have not yet occurred. However, the Master Fund expects the risk of loss to be remote.

7. INVESTMENT TRANSACTIONS

For the period ended September 30, 2007, the aggregate purchases and sales of investments (excluding short-term securities) were $11,500,000 and $18,314,191, respectively.

8. TENDER OFFERS

On February 27, 2007, the Master Fund offered to purchase in cash an amount of Interests or portions of Interest up to $2.6 million of the net assets of the Master Fund tendered by members of the Master Fund at a price equal to the net asset value at June 29, 2007. Tenders with an estimated value in the amount of $750,422 were received and accepted by the Master Fund from members. Members received a payment of $750,422 on July 31, 2007 and the remaining amount will be paid promptly after completion of the Master Fund's March 31, 2008 year end audit.

PNC LONG-SHORT MASTER FUND LLC

SIX-MONTH PERIOD ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2007

On June 6, 2007, the Master Fund offered to purchase in cash an amount of Interests or portions of Interest up to $2.6 million of the net assets of the Master Fund tendered by members of the Master Fund at a price equal to the net asset value at September 28, 2007. Tenders with an estimated value in the amount of $975,284 were received and accepted by the Master Fund from members. Members received a payment of $975,284 on October 31, 2007 and the remaining amount will be paid promptly after completion of the Master Fund's March 31, 2008 year end audit.

On August 24, 2007, the Master Fund offered to purchase in cash an amount of Interests or portions of Interest up to $2.6 million of the net assets of the Master Fund tendered by members of the Master Fund at a price equal to the net asset value at December 31, 2007. Tenders with an estimated value in the amount of $2,500,000 were received and accepted by the Master Fund from members. A Promissory Note was issued by the Master Fund entitling the members to a payment within 30 days after December 31, 2007.

9. LINE OF CREDIT

The Master Fund has a line of credit with Boston Private Bank & Trust Company. The Master Fund pays a facility fee to Boston Private Bank & Trust Company equal to one quarter of one percent of the amount of the facility. For the period ended September 30, 2007, the Master Fund had average borrowings of $2,050,000 over an average period of 10 days at an interest rate of 9.25%. As of September 30, 2007 there were borrowings outstanding of $2,750,000.

10. NEW ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

On July 13, 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued FASB interpretation 48 ("FIN 48"), "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes." This standard defines the threshold for recognizing the benefits of tax-return positions in the financial statements as "more-likely-than-not" to be sustained by the taxing authority and requires measurement of a tax position meeting the more-likely-than-not criterion, based on the largest benefit that is more than 50 percent likely to be realized. FIN 48 is effective as of the beginning of the first fiscal year beginning after December 15, 2006 and is to be applied to all open tax years as of the effective date. Based on its analysis, management has determined that the adoption of FIN 48 did not have a material impact to the Fund's financial statements upon adoption. However, management's conclusions regarding FIN 48 may be subject to review and adjustment at a later date based on factors including, but not limited to, further implementation guidance expected from the FASB, and on-going analyses of and changes to tax laws, regulations and interpretations thereof.

In September 2006, FASB issued Statement on Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 157, "Fair Value Measurements." This standard establishes a single authoritative definition of fair value, sets out a framework for measuring fair value and requires additional disclosures about fair value measurements. SFAS No. 157 applies to fair value measurements already required or permitted by existing standards. SFAS No. 157 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007 and interim periods within those fiscal years. The changes to current generally accepted accounting principles from the application of this Statement relate to the definition of fair value, the methods used to measure fair value, and the expanded disclosures about fair value measurements. As of September 30, 2007, the Master Fund does not believe the adoption of SFAS No. 157 will impact the amounts reported in the financial statements; however, additional disclosures may be required about the inputs used to develop the measurements and the effect of certain of the measurements reported on the statement of changes in members' capital for a fiscal period.

PNC LONG-SHORT MASTER FUND LLC
BOARD APPROVAL OF INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT AGREEMENT (UNAUDITED)
SEPTEMBER 30, 2007

At a meeting held on May 17, 2007, the Directors of the Master Fund, including a majority of the Directors who are not "interested persons" (as such term is defined in Section 2(a)(19) of the 1940 Act (the "Independent Directors")), met in person and voted to approve a new investment management agreement between the Master Fund and the Manager, subject to approval by members (the "New Investment Management Agreement").

Prior to March 2, 2007, the Manager served as the investment manager to the Master Fund pursuant to an investment management agreement between the Manager and the Master Fund (the "Prior Investment Management Agreement"). The Manager was indirectly wholly owned by Mercantile Bankshares. On March 2, 2007, Mercantile Bankshares merged into and with PNC. The merger resulted in an "assignment," as that term is defined in the 1940 Act, of the Prior Investment Management Agreement, and as a result, the Prior Investment Management Agreement automatically terminated in accordance with its terms.

In reaching their decision to approve the New Investment Management Agreement, the Directors of the Master Fund, with the assistance of independent legal counsel, considered their legal responsibilities and evaluated the New Investment Management Agreement in light of the related information they had requested and received from the Manager. The Directors reviewed these materials with the management of the Manager and the Master Fund; legal counsel to the Master Fund; and independent legal counsel to the Directors. The Directors also discussed the proposed approval with counsels in an executive session, at which no representatives of the Manager were present. The Directors considered whether such approval would be in the best interests of the Master Fund and its members, focusing primarily on the nature and quality of the services provided by the Manager and the overall fairness of the New Investment Management Agreement. In their deliberations, the Directors did not rank the importance of any particular information or factor considered, and it is presumed that each Director attributed different weights to the various factors.

With respect to the nature, extent and quality of investment management services to be provided by the Manager under the Investment Management Agreement to the Master Fund, the Directors considered the experience and staffing of the personnel of the Manager dedicated to performing services for the Master Fund. The Directors noted that the Investment Management Agreement for the Master Fund authorizes the Manager to employ investment advisers to assist in the performance of any or all of the investment management services to the Master Fund under the Manager's supervision, and that pursuant to such authority the Manager had retained Advantage Advisers Management, LLC (the "Adviser") to provide a continuing investment program for the Master Fund, including research and management of the investments and other assets. The Directors also considered the Manager's procedures to oversee and monitor the investment activities of the Adviser and the Manager's compliance program. The Directors confirmed that there were no pending litigation or regulatory actions against the Manager or PNC that would adversely affect or prohibit the Manager's services to the Master Fund and the Fund, that the Manager and the Master Fund had errors and omissions and fidelity bond insurance coverage and that the Directors are indemnified and insured with respect to the costs of any litigation or regulatory action arising in connection with the Merger. The Directors also noted that the services provided by the Manager will be enhanced by the resources of the larger organization of the Manager's new parent company, PNC. Based on this review, the Directors concluded that the Manager had the capabilities, resources and personnel necessary to act as the investment manager.

The Directors also considered the annualized returns of the feeder funds that invest all or substantially all of their investment assets in the Master Fund (the "Feeder Funds") for the calendar year-to-date, one-year, three-year and since inception periods ended March 31, 2007 in comparison to relevant market indices and standard deviation (which reflects the overall risk of the portfolio). The comparative information showed that the Fund outperformed the annual returns of the HFRX Equity Hedge Index for the three year and since inception periods, and underperformed for the one-year period, and the Directors concluded that the overall performance was satisfactory. In addition to the performance information received by the Directors at the meeting, the Directors routinely receive detailed performance information with respect to the Feeder Funds at other regular Board meetings.

The Directors also assessed the asset-based management fee, together with the total expense ratio, of the Master Fund as compared to the fees and expenses of the peer group of investment companies with a similar investment strategies and structure that was based on publicly available sources and provided by the Manager. The Directors recognized that it is difficult to make comparisons of the management fees because of variations in the services that are included in the fees paid by peer investment companies. The Directors noted that the fee structure contemplated in the New Investment Management Agreement is the same as the fees paid under the Prior Investment Management Agreement. The Directors considered the Manager's profitability in providing services to the Master Fund, taking into account the fees and other benefits realized by the Manager or any of its affiliates as a result of its role as investment manager and the direct and indirect expenses incurred by the Manager in providing these services. At the request of the Directors, the Manager provided information concerning the profitability of the Manager's investment advisory activities for the twelve month period ended December 31, 2006 and the financial condition of PNC. The Directors also reviewed the methods of allocation used by the Manager in preparing the profitability analysis. The Directors recognized that the Manager should, in the abstract, be entitled to earn a reasonable level of profits for its services. Based upon their review, the Directors concluded that they were satisfied that the profitability information provided by the Manager did not suggest that the Manager's level of profitability from its relationship with the Master Fund was excessive and that the asset-based management fee was fair and reasonable.

Based on their evaluation of all material factors, including those described above, the Directors concluded that the terms of the New Investment Management Agreement was reasonable and fair and that the approval of the New Investment Management Agreement was in the best interests of the Master Fund and its members.

At the same meeting held on May 17, 2007, the Board of Directors of the Master Fund, including a majority of the Independent Directors, approved renewal of the Investment Advisory Agreement between the Manager, the Adviser and the Master Fund.

In connection with such approval, the Directors considered, with the assistance of their independent legal counsel, their legal responsibilities and reviewed materials they had requested and received from the Adviser. The materials contained specific information to assist the Directors in their consideration of the Investment Advisory Agreement. The Directors carefully evaluated these materials with the Adviser and the Manager, and were advised by counsel to the Master Fund and independent counsel to the Directors with respect to their deliberations. The Directors also received a memorandum from independent counsel discussing the legal standards for their consideration of the approval of the Investment Advisory Agreement. The Directors also discussed the approval of the Investment Advisory Agreement in an executive session with counsels, at which no representatives of the Adviser or the Manager were present. In their deliberations, the Directors did not identify any particular information that was all-important or controlling, and each Director may have attributed different weights to the various factors.

The Directors considered whether the continuance would be in the best interests of the Master Fund and its members, an evaluation based primarily on the nature and quality of the services provided by the Adviser and the overall fairness of the Investment Advisory Agreement to the Master Fund. In considering the nature and quality of the services, the Directors considered the investment and business operations capabilities of the Adviser. Based on this review, the Directors concluded that the Adviser had the capabilities, resources and personnel necessary to manage the Master Fund. The Directors also noted that the Manager recommended the Adviser's re-hire for an additional year.

 BOARD APPROVAL OF INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT AGREEMENT (UNAUDITED)
 SEPTEMBER 30, 2007

With respect to the overall fairness of the agreement, the Directors considered the fee structure of the agreement and the profitability of the Adviser from its association with the Master Fund. The Directors considered the Adviser's representation at the meeting that the investment advisory fee paid to the Adviser is reasonable compared with fees it received from similar advisory arrangements and that this fee is paid by the Manager. The Directors also considered that the advisory fee structure provides for incentive fees payable by the Manager to the Adviser when the performance exceeds certain levels and that such fees are paid by the Manager. The Directors recognized that it is difficult to make comparisons of profitability to other investment management contracts because comparative information is not generally publicly available and may be affected by numerous factors, including the structure of the particular adviser, the types of funds it manages, its business mix, numerous assumptions regarding allocations and the adviser's capital structure and cost of capital. The Directors recognized that the Adviser should, in the abstract, be entitled to earn a reasonable level of profits for services it provides. The Directors did not put great weight on the Adviser's profitability but recognized that the negotiation of the subadvisory fee is an arms' length transaction between the Manager and the Adviser. The Directors noted that the assets of the Master Fund had not yet grown to the point where real economies of scale could be realized.

The Directors concluded that, based on the services that the Adviser would provide to the Master Fund under the agreement and the expenses incurred by the Adviser in the performance of such services, the compensation to be paid to the Adviser was fair and reasonable.

CERTIFICATION

Pursuant to Section 302
of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002

I, Kevin A. McCreadie, certify that:

1. I have reviewed this report on Form N-CSR of PNC Long-Short Master Fund;
2. Based on my knowledge, this report does not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statements made, in light of the circumstances under which such statements were made, not misleading with respect to the period covered by this report;
3. Based on my knowledge, the financial statements, and other financial information included in this report, fairly present in all material respects the financial condition, results of operations, changes in net assets, and cash flows (if the financial statements are required to include a statement of cash flows) of the registrant as of, and for, the periods presented in this report;
4. The registrant's other certifying officer(s) and I are responsible for establishing and maintaining disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rule 30a-3(c) under the Investment Company Act of 1940) and internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rule 30a-3(d) under the Investment Company Act of 1940) for the registrant and have:
 - (a) Designed such disclosure controls and procedures, or caused such disclosure controls and procedures to be designed under our supervision, to ensure that material information relating to the registrant, including its consolidated subsidiaries, is made known to us by others within those entities, particularly during the period in which this report is being prepared;
 - (b) Designed such internal control over financial reporting, or caused such internal control over financial reporting to be designed under our supervision, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles;
 - (c) Evaluated the effectiveness of the registrant's disclosure controls and procedures and presented in this report our conclusions about the effectiveness of the disclosure controls and procedures, as of a date within 90 days prior to the filing date of this report based on such evaluation; and
 - (d) Disclosed in this report any change in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the registrant's most recent fiscal half-year (the registrant's second fiscal half-year in the case of an annual report) that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the registrant's internal control over financial reporting; and

5. The registrant's other certifying officer(s) and I have disclosed to the registrant's auditors and the audit committee of the registrant's board of directors (or persons performing the equivalent functions):

(a) All significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in the design or operation of internal control over financial reporting which are reasonably likely to adversely affect the registrant's ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial information; and

(b) Any fraud, whether or not material, that involves management or other employees who have a significant role in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting.
