Nomadar Launches Our XI, A Digital Education Platform for Professional Soccer Operations

Marshall, Texas — February 17, 2026 — Nomadar (NASDAQ: NOMA), a U.S.-based company operating at the intersection of sports, technology, tourism, and health, today announced the launch of Our XI, a fully digital educational platform designed to strengthen knowledge of back-office operations at professional soccer clubs. The project is part of the ongoing digital transformation of Nomadar’s High Performance Training Program (HPT), specifically within its education vertical.

Developed in collaboration with Cádiz CF, Our XI provides a practical, real-world perspective on how professional clubs operate behind the scenes, covering key areas including marketing, communications, business operations, data analytics, artificial intelligence, and emerging digital models in sports.

The platform features active professionals from Cádiz CF and other clubs, sports institutions, and media organizations, offering participants a broad and current view of the global soccer industry through on-demand coursework, live masterclasses, and access to a professional community for networking and career development.

“Our XI was conceived as a way to open up the inner workings of professional soccer organizations,” said Dani Aragon, Nomadar’s Director of Digital Business. “By combining real-world expertise, hands-on experience, and forward-looking insight, we aim to prepare professionals for an increasingly technological, digital and globalized soccer industry.”

During its initial phase, Our XI is being launched across the entire Spanish-speaking market, including Spain, Latin America, and the Spanish-speaking community in the United States, addressing growing demand for specialized training within the sports industry and professional soccer ecosystem.

The launch marks another step in Nomadar’s broader digitalization strategy across its business lines, structurally integrating the education vertical within its HPT program. In January, the Company announced the international expansion of its HPT program through the co-development of a digital platform designed to support entry into the Indian market, reinforcing a hybrid model that combines education, technology, and sports development in new strategic geographies.

Together with Our XI, the HPT program continues to strive to advance digital transformation and education as strategic pillars for talent development and the professionalization of soccer on a global scale.
