Morningstar Category Average Disclosure (Note - Morningstar categories are not available for the Stable Asset Return Fund, the Real Asset Return Fund, or the Alternative Alpha Fund)

In an effort to distinguish funds by the portfolios, objectives and styles, Morningstar developed the Morningstar Categories. While the objective identified in the Prospectus states a Fund's investment goals based on the stated fund objective, the Morningstar Category identifies funds based on their actual investment styles as measured by their underlying portfolio holdings (portfolio and other statistics over the past three years). Morningstar category averages are equal-weighted category returns. The calculation is the average of the returns for all the funds in a given category. The standard category average calculation is based on constituents of the category at the end of the period.

Bond Core Plus Fund & Bond Index Fund

(Morningstar Category: Intermediate Term Bond)

Intermediate-term bond portfolios invest primarily in corporate and other investment-grade U.S. fixed-income issues and have durations of 3.5 to 6 years (or, if duration is unavailable, average effective maturities of 4 to 10 years). These portfolios are less sensitive to interest rates, and therefore less volatile, than portfolios that have longer durations.

Large Cap Equity Fund & Large Cap Index Equity Fund

(Morningstar Category: Large Blend)

Stocks of companies in the top 70% of capitalization of the U.S. equity market are defined as large-cap. The blend style is assigned to portfolios where neither growth nor value characteristics predominate. These portfolios tend to invest across the spectrum of U.S. industries, and owing to their broad exposure, the portfolios' returns are similar to those of the S&P 500 Index.

Small-Mid Cap Equity Fund

(Morningstar Category: Small-Mid Cap Core)

Funds in Small-Mid Cap Core have a flexible investing strategy that allows for pursuit of investments in small and mid capitalization ranges. The style score of portfolios in this group falls in the middle of the spectrum, either because of a focus on both growth and value investing or because stocks are selected from a variety of styles. Key strategies of Small-Mid portfolios include but are not limited to, investment in smaller mid cap companies, investment in small-cap and mid-cap companies, and movement between small and mid-capitalizations.

International All Cap Equity Fund & International Index Equity Fund

(Morningstar Category: Foreign Large Blend)

Foreign large-blend portfolios invest in a variety of large international company stocks. Most of these portfolios divide their assets among a dozen or more developed markets, including Japan, Britain, France, and Germany. These portfolios primarily invest in stocks of companies that have market caps in the top 70% of each economically integrated market (such as Europe or Asia ex-Japan). The blend style is assigned to portfolios where neither growth nor value characteristics predominate. These portfolios typically will have less than 20% of assets invested in U.S. stocks.

Balanced Fund (Morningstar Category: Moderate Allocation)

Moderate-allocation portfolios seek to provide both capital appreciation and income by investing in three major asset classes: stocks, bonds, and cash. These portfolios tend to hold larger positions in stocks than conservative-allocation portfolios. These portfolios typically have 50% to 70% of assets in equities and the remainder in fixed income and cash.

Global All Cap Equity Fund (Morningstar Category: World Stock)

Lifetime Income Retirement Date Fund

(Morningstar Category: Retirement Income)

Retirement income portfolios provide a mix of stocks, bonds, and cash for those investors already in or entering retirement. These portfolios tend to be managed to a more conservative asset allocation strategy. These portfolios aim to provide investors with steady income throughout retirement.

2010 Retirement Date Fund

(Morningstar Category: Target Date 2000-2010)

Target date portfolios provide a diversified exposure to stocks, bonds, and cash for those investors who have a specific date in mind (in this case, the years 2000-2010) for retirement. These portfolios aim to provide investors with an optimal level of return and risk, based solely on the target date. Over time, the asset manager adjusts the allocation among asset classes to more conservative mixes as the target date approaches, following a preset glidepath. A target-date portfolio is part of a series of funds offering multiple retirement dates to investors.

2020 Retirement Date Fund

(Morningstar Category: Target Date 2016-2020)

Target date portfolios provide a diversified exposure to stocks, bonds, and cash for those investors who have a specific date in mind (in this case, the years 2016-2020) for retirement. These portfolios aim to provide investors with an optimal level of return and risk, based solely on the target date. Over time, the asset manager adjusts the allocation among asset classes to more conservative mixes as the target date approaches, following a preset glidepath. A target-date portfolio is part of a series of funds offering multiple retirement dates to investors.

2030 Retirement Date Fund

(Morningstar Category: Target Date 2026-2030)

Target date portfolios provide a diversified exposure to stocks, bonds, and cash for those investors who have a specific date in mind (in this case, the years 2026-2030) for retirement. These portfolios aim to provide investors with an optimal level of return and risk, based solely on the target date. Over time, the asset manager adjusts the allocation among asset classes to more conservative mixes as the target date approaches, following a preset glidepath. A target-date portfolio is part of a series of funds offering multiple retirement dates to investors.

2040 Retirement Date Fund

Target date portfolios provide a diversified exposure to stocks, bonds, and cash for those investors who have a specific date in mind (in this case, the years 2036-2040) for retirement. These portfolios aim to provide investors with an optimal level of return and risk, based solely on the target date. Over time, the asset manager adjusts the allocation among asset classes to more conservative mixes as the target date approaches following a preset glidepath. World-stock portfolios have few geographical limitations. It is common for these portfolios to invest the majority of their assets in the U.S., Europe, and Japan, with the remainder divided among the globe's smaller markets. These portfolios typically have 20%-60% of assets in U.S. stocks.

All Cap Index Equity Fund (Morningstar Category: All-Cap Core)

All-cap core funds exhibit a profile broadly representative of the entire U.S. market. They maintain at least 20% exposure to each of the large, mid, and small market capitalization groups and they select stocks with a variety of growth and price characteristics. Style scores in this group will be roughly equivalent to the overall market average.

Mid Cap Index Equity Fund (Morningstar Category: Mid-Cap Blend)

The typical mid-cap blend portfolio invests in U.S. stocks of various sizes and styles, giving it a middle-of-the-road profile. Most shy away from high-priced growth stocks, but aren't so price conscious that they land in value territory. The U.S. mid-cap range for market capitalization typically falls between $1 billion-$8 billion and represents 20% of the total capitalization of the U.S. equity market. The blend style is assigned to portfolios where neither growth nor value characteristics predominate.

Small Cap Index Equity Fund (Morningstar Category: Small-Cap Blend)

Small-blend portfolios favor U.S. firms at the smaller end of the market-capitalization range. Some aim to own an array of value and growth stocks while others employ a discipline that leads to holdings with valuations and growth rates close to the small-cap averages. Stocks in the bottom 10% of the capitalization of the U.S. equity market are defined as small-cap. The blend style is assigned to portfolios where neither growth nor value characteristics predominate.
