Year 2000 Readiness Disclosure

The Company is aware of the issues associated with the programming code in existing computer systems as the millennium (year 2000) approaches. The "year 2000 problem" is pervasive and complex; virtually every computer operation will be affected in some way by the rollover of the two-digit year value to 00. The issue is whether computer systems will properly recognize date-sensitive information when the year changes to 2000. Systems that do not properly recognize such information could generate erroneous data, fail or cause another system to fail. "Systems" include all hardware, networks, system and application software, commercial "off-the-shelf" software, data and voice communication devices, and embedded technology such as date-impacted processors in automated systems such as elevators, telephone systems, security systems, vault systems, heating and cooling systems and others.

The Company's year 2000 readiness projects are divided into four phases:

Phase I: comprehensive assessment and inventory of Systems intended to determine year 2000 vulnerability and risk;

Phase II: date detection on Systems intended to determine which Systems must be remediated and which Systems are compliant and require testing only; determination of required resources and costs; and the development of schedules and high-level testing plans for the repair, replacement and/or retirement of Systems that are not determined to be year 2000 compliant;

Phase III: repair, replacement and/or retirement of Systems that are not determined to be year 2000 compliant; conduct testing of individual Systems; and plan the integration testing for those Systems that have interfaces with other Systems both internal and external to the company, such as those of customers and suppliers; and

Phase IV: integration testing of applicable Systems to validate that interfaces with other Systems are year 2000 compliant; and the development of contingency plans, such as plans to recover operations and alternatives to mitigate the effects of counterparties whose own failure to properly address year 2000 issues may adversely impact their ability to perform certain functions.

The Company in respect to the year 2000 project: (i) has substantially completed Phases I, II and III; and(ii) anticipates Phase IV will be substantially complete by June 30, 1999.

The cost to address the Company's year 2000 projects are included as part of the management contract with its parent company.

In the event year 2000 problems arise out of a failure of the efforts described above any resulting disruptions could adversely affect the business operations.

Item 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data.

Certain accounting policies and procedures that the Company believes are important to understand the accompanying financial statements are described below.

Nature of Operations

Norwest Mortgage Insured 1, Inc., (the Company), was incorporated in the State of Delaware on October 27, 1983, as a wholly owned, limited-purpose, financing subsidiary of Norwest Mortgage, Inc. Norwest Mortgage, Inc., is the principal mortgage banking business of Wells Fargo & Company (Wells Fargo), and derives its' income primarily from mortgage origination and servicing operations. Norwest Mortgage, Inc. is a wholly owned subsidiary of Norwest Nova, Inc., which is a wholly owned subsidiary of Wells Fargo. The Company was organized to issue and sell one series of obligations, consisting of four classes, collateralized by fully-modified, pass-through, mortgage-backed certificates guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA) and does not intend to engage in any other business activities except activities incidental and necessary to the foregoing.

Issuance of GNMA-collateralized Mortgage Obligations

The Company has issued GNMA-Collateralized Obligations (the Obligations). The issuance of the Obligations and the simultaneous delivery of the GNMA Certificates to an irrevocable trust has been accounted for as a sale of the GNMA Certificates. Accordingly, neither the GNMA Certificates nor the Obligations appear on the balance sheets. All costs of issuance were reimbursed by the parent company.
