Dear Shareholder:

Analyzing risk premiums, yield spreads, call dates, yield curves, credit ratings, supply-and-demand dynamics, taxable versus tax-exempt yield relationships, and a host of other factors is all in a day's work for Putnam's Tax-Exempt Bond Group. The result was another period of competitive performance for Putnam Massachusetts Tax Exempt Income Fund's fiscal year that closed on May 31, 1998.

Using her own knowledge of the Massachusetts tax-exempt bond environment and backed by Putnam's extensive credit analysis capability, Fund Manager Leslie Burke made the strategic and tactical decisions that provided these positive results. In the following report, Leslie discusses the fund's performance during fiscal 1998 and then takes a look at prospects for the tax-exempt market, especially with regard to Massachusetts, in the months ahead.

Respectfully yours,

/S/GEORGE PUTNAM George Putnam Chairman of the Trustees July 15, 1998

Report from the Fund Manager Leslie J. Burke

The robust Massachusetts' economy and continued improvements in the Commonwealth's credit rating contributed to strong returns for Putnam Massachusetts Tax Exempt Income Fund this year, along with a healthy supply of desirable state and institutional bond issues and a successful hedging strategy. For the year ended May 31, 1998, your fund's class A shares returned 8.86% at net asset value (3.74% at public offering price). For complete performance information, including results for class B and class M shares, please see page 9.

*MASSACHUSETTS CREDIT RATING CONTINUES TO CLIMB

Although the market has held its trading range since the beginning of 1998 and the inflow of investment funds from overseas has remained steady, we believe some shift is likely as we enter the third quarter of 1998. Because the market's direction is still uncertain, no clear investment theme has emerged, and we are maintaining a slightly defensive, duration-neutral stance. Meanwhile, along with that of the rest of the United States, the Massachusetts economy continues to thrive. Following credit upgrades in October and November 1997, Standard and Poor's raised the Commonwealth's credit rating a third time, in January 1998, to AA from AA-. The rating on Massachusetts debt had sunk as low as BBB in 1989 as a result of overspending followed by a severe economic recession.

With the general perception that the Commonwealth is in excellent overall fiscal condition, retail demand for its bonds remains vigorous. Strong wealth indicators, an educated work force, and a 12% unearned income tax rate all contribute to the desirability of Massachusetts debt over that of many other states. We took advantage of this situation by selling a portion of the fund's position in Massachusetts general obligation bonds, which had appreciated to the point that we considered them fully valued. Profits from this sale were reinvested in several attractive education issues.

* EDUCATION BONDS: THE NATURAL CHOICE

The most significant change in your fund's portfolio over the past year has been increased focus on education issues. Although education issues don't straddle the credit spectrum to the same extent as health-care bonds, the education sector currently offers more compelling investment opportunities. We have recently purchased Wentworth Institute of Technology debt as well as that of Groton School, which because of its reputation, trades higher than comparable AA issues. We also own some debt of smaller schools at the other end of the credit spectrum; these are lower-rated bonds whose purchase was prompted by their attractive yields and coupons.

The stars of the education portion of your fund's portfolio are Harvard University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) bonds, which both carry natural AAA ratings. This sets them apart from the majority of AAA-rated bonds, which typically owe their high ratings to insurance designed to offset whatever degree of risk is inherent in that particular issue. A natural AAA bond achieves its rating based solely upon the intrinsic credit rating and reputation of the issuer and requires no enhancement from insurance companies to ensure credit or reduce risk. In the case of Harvard and MIT, their vast endowments, together with their worldwide reputations, guarantee their credit safety. As a consequence, they tend to trade higher than typical insured AAAs.

In addition to their other advantages, these Harvard and MIT bonds are noncallable. Callable bonds have the option of being called away by the issuer at a certain future date, usually if interest rates are lower than when the bonds are first issued. To provide the fund with an attractive and durable level of income, we have sought to reduce its exposure to callable bonds; adding noncallable bonds -- especially bonds as attractive as these -- makes a valuable contribution to our risk-management efforts.

* TRANSPORTATION ISSUES ON THE MOVE

When bond market prices fall in the Commonwealth, the Massachusetts Turnpike issue tends to be among the least expensive because the supply is so plentiful. Thus, while Massachusetts bonds have traded higher and higher as the state's credit rating has improved, Massachusetts Turnpike issues have remained relatively inexpensive, trading as high as 91% of the yield of comparable Treasuries. We continued to increase the fund's investment in these bonds as opportunities arose.

We have also been active in Puerto Rico, which conducted an aggressive issuing program between October 1997 and the first week of May 1998. Island authorities are using this new debt to finance an Electric Power Authority update, as well as to build the island's first public transportation system -a $1.4 billion project. Many of the architects and engineers driving Puerto Rico's transportation project have also been involved in the Massachusetts Big Dig project, and some of its administrators are veterans of the administration of former Massachusetts Governor Michael Dukakis. In addition to their tax advantages, many of the Puerto Rican bonds are also noncallable.

* MUNICIPAL BONDS REMAIN ATTRACTIVE, LONGER-TERM OUTLOOK REMAINS CAUTIOUS

As measured by their ratio to Treasuries, municipal bonds as a class have been relatively cheap for much of this year, making them attractive investments. Long-term municipal bonds are currently trading at about 90% of the yield of comparable Treasuries, up from 87% at the end of 1997. When compared with the standard historical ratio of approximately 84%, this is obviously a buying opportunity. The fund is currently fully invested in the municipal bond market, using Treasury futures to scale back duration to neutral as a hedge against future volatility. We believe that municipal bond yields will fall back to 86% to 87% of Treasuries in the not-too-distant future. This belief reflects two facts: first, June 1 and July 1 are significant coupon payment dates for bond issuers; and second, bond supply generally dwindles during the summer months. Thus, bondholders seeking to reinvest their June and July payments could prompt an increase in demand at a time when supply is low -- driving prices higher and yields correspondingly lower.

The Massachusetts municipal bond market looks quite healthy as it moves into the traditionally slow summer season. With both the nation's and Massachusetts economies strong, employment growth continuing, and interest rates stable, the demand for municipal bonds is expected to remain robust. However, these favorable conditions may eventually give way to slightly higher inflation, so we remain cautious in our outlook as we enter fiscal 1999. In our opinion, this is not a good time to expose the portfolio to bonds with longer maturities and higher interest-rate risk. We believe that a cautious strategy emphasizing intermediate maturities, low call risk, and in-depth credit research will produce the best returns in the months ahead.

The views expressed here are exclusively those of Putnam Management. They are not meant as investment advice. Although the described holdings were viewed favorably as of 5/31/98, there is no guarantee the fund will continue to hold these securities in the future.

Past performance is no assurance of future results. Returns for class A and class  $\ensuremath{\mathsf{M}}$  shares reflect the current maximum initial sales charges of 4.75% and 3.25%, respectively. Class B share returns for the 1-, 5-, and 10-year (where available) and life-of-fund periods reflect the applicable contingent deferred sales charge (CDSC), which is 5% in the first year, declines to 1% in the sixth year, and is eliminated thereafter. Returns shown for class B and class M shares for periods prior to their inception are derived from the historical performance of class A shares, adjusted to reflect both the initial sales charge or CDSC, if any, currently applicable to each class and in the case of class  ${\tt B}$  and class  ${\tt M}$ shares, the higher operating expenses applicable to such shares. All returns assume reinvestment of distributions at NAV. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that an investor's share when redeemed may be worth more or less than their original cost.

TERMS AND DEFINITIONS

Total return shows how the value of the fund's shares changed over time, assuming you held the shares through the entire period and reinvested all distributions in the fund.

Class A shares are generally subject to an initial sales charge.

Class B shares may be subject to a sales charge upon redemption.

Class M shares have a lower initial sales charge and a higher 12b-1 fee than class A shares and no sales charge on redemption.

Net asset value (NAV) is the value of all your fund's assets, minus any liabilities, divided by the number of outstanding shares, not including any initial or contingent deferred sales charge.

Public offering price (POP) is the price of a mutual fund share plus the maximum sales charge levied at the time of purchase. POP performance figures shown here assume the 4.75% maximum sales charge for class A shares and 3.25% for class M shares.

Contingent deferred sales charge (CDSC) is a charge applied at the time of the redemption of class B shares and assumes redemption at the end of the period. Your fund's CDSC declines from a 5% maximum during the first year to 1% during the sixth year. After the sixth year, the CDSC no longer applies.

It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Consumer Price Index (CPI) is a commonly used measure of inflation; it does not represent an investment return.

Notes to financial statements May 31, 1998

Note 1 Significant accounting policies

Putnam Massachusetts Tax Exempt Income Fund (the "fund") is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, as a diversified, open-end management investment company. The fund seeks as high a level of current income exempt from federal income tax and Massachusetts personal income tax as the fund's Manager, Putnam Investment Management, Inc. ("Putnam Management"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Putnam Investments, Inc., believes is consistent with preservation of capital by investing primarily in a portfolio of Massachusetts tax-exempt securities.

The fund offers class A, class B and class M shares. Class A shares are sold with a maximum front-end sales charge of 4.75%. Class B shares, which convert to class A shares within approximately six to eight years, do not pay a front-end sales charge, but pay a higher ongoing distribution fee than class A shares, and are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge, if those shares are redeemed within six years of purchase. Class M shares are sold with a maximum front-end sales charge of 3.25% and pay an ongoing distribution fee that is lower than class B shares and higher than class A shares.

Expenses of the fund are borne pro-rata by the holders of each class of shares, except that each class bears expenses unique to that class (including the distribution fees applicable to such class). Each class votes as a class only with respect to its own distribution plan or other matters on which a class vote is required by law or determined by the Trustees. Shares of each class would receive their pro-rata share of the net assets of the fund, if the fund were liquidated. In addition, the Trustees declare separate dividends on each class of shares.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements is in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles and requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

A) Security valuation Tax-exempt bonds and notes are stated on the basis of valuations provided by a pricing service, approved by the Trustees, which uses information with respect to transactions in bonds, quotations from bond dealers, market transactions in comparable securities and various relationships between securities in determining value. Short-term tax-exempt investments having remaining maturities of 60 days or less are stated at amortized cost which approximates market value.

B) Security transactions and related investment income Security transactions are accounted for on the trade date (date the order to buy or sell is executed). Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis.

C) Futures and options contracts The fund may use futures and options contracts to hedge against changes in the values of securities the fund owns or expects to purchase. The fund may also write options on securities it owns or in which it may invest to increase its current returns.

The potential risk to the fund is that the change in value of futures and options contracts may not correspond to the change in value of the hedged instruments. In addition, losses may arise from changes in the value of the underlying instruments, if there is an illiquid secondary market for the contracts, or if the counterparty to the contract is unable to perform. When the contract is closed, the fund records a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed. Realized gains and losses on purchased options are included in realized gains and losses on investment securities.

Futures contracts are valued at the quoted daily settlement prices established by the exchange on which they trade. Exchange traded options are valued at the last sale price, or if no sales are reported, the last bid price for purchased options and the last ask price for written options. Options traded over-the-counter are valued using prices supplied by dealers.

D) Federal taxes It is the policy of the fund to distribute all of its income within the prescribed time and otherwise comply with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies. It is also the intention of the fund to distribute an amount sufficient to avoid imposition of any excise tax under Section 4982 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Therefore, no provision has been made for federal taxes on income, capital gains or unrealized appreciation on securities held nor for excise tax on income and capital gains. At May 31, 1998, the fund had a capital loss carryover of approximately $3,140,000 available to offset future capital gains, if any. The amount of the carryover and the expiration dates are:

| Loss Carryover | Expiration   |
|----------------|--------------|
| $1,126,000    | May 31, 2003 |
| 2,014,000      | May 31, 2004 |

E) Distributions to shareholders Income dividends are recorded daily by the fund and are distributed monthly. Capital gain distributions, if any, are recorded on the ex-dividend date and paid at least annually. The amount and character of income and gains to be distributed are determined in accordance with income tax regulations which may differ from generally accepted accounting principles. These differences include temporary and permanent differences of unrealized gains and losses on certain futures contracts, market discount, and straddle loss deferrals. Reclassifications are made to the fund's capital accounts to reflect income and gains available for distribution (or available capital loss carryovers) under income tax regulations. For the year ended May 31, 1998 the fund reclassified $65,141 to increase undistributed net investment income with an increase to accumulated net realized loss on investments of $65,141. The calculation of net investment income per share in the financial highlights table excludes these adjustments.

F) Amortization of bond premium and accretion of bond discount Any premium resulting from the purchase of securities in excess of maturity value is amortized on a yield-to-maturity basis. Discounts on zero coupon bonds and original issue discount bonds are accreted according to the yield-to-maturity basis.

G) Line of credit The fund has entered into a committed line of credit with certain banks. The line of credit agreement includes restrictions that the fund maintain an asset coverage ratio of at least 300% and borrowings must not exceed prospectus limitations. For the year ended May 31, 1998, the fund had no borrowings against the line of credit.

Note 2 Management fee, administrative services and other transactions

Compensation of Putnam Management, for management and investment advisory services is paid quarterly based on the average net assets of the fund. Such fee is based on the following annual rates: 0.60% of the first $500 million of average net assets, 0.50% of the next $500 million, 0.45% of the next $500 million, 0.40% of the next $5 billion, 0.375% of the next $5 billion, 0.35% of the next $5 billion, 0.33% thereafter.

The fund reimburses Putnam Management an allocated amount for the compensation and related expenses of certain officers of the fund and their staff who provide administrative services to the fund. The aggregate amount of all such reimbursements is determined annually by the Trustees.

Custodial functions for the fund's assets are provided by Putnam Fiduciary Trust Company (PFTC), a subsidiary of Putnam Investments, Inc. Investor servicing agent functions are provided by Putnam Investor Services, a division of PFTC.

For the year ended May 31, 1998, fund expenses were reduced by $117,667 under expense offset arangements with PFTC. Investor servicing and custodian fees reported in the Statement of operations exclude these credits. The fund could have invested a portion of the assets utilized in connection with the expense offset arrangements in an income producing asset if it had not entered into such arrangements.

Each Trustee of the fund receives an annual Trustee fee, of which $440 has been allocated to the fund, and an additional fee for each Trustee's meeting attended. Trustees who are not interested persons of Putnam Management and who serve on committees of the Trustees receive additional fees for attendance at certain committee meetings.

The fund has adopted a Trustee Fee Deferral Plan (the "Deferral Plan") which allows the Trustees to defer the receipt of all or a portion of Trustees Fees payable on or after July 1, 1995. The deferred fees remain in the fund and are invested in certain Putnam funds until distribution in accordance with the Deferral Plan.

The fund has adopted an unfunded noncontributory defined benefit pension plan (the "Pension Plan") covering all Trustees of the fund who have served as Trustee for at least five years. Benefits under the Pension Plan are equal to 50% of the Trustee's average total retainer and meeting fees for the three years preceding retirement. Pension expense for the fund is included in Compensation of trustees in the Statement of operations. Accrued pension liability is included in Payable for compensation of Trustees in the Statement of assets and liabilities.

The fund has adopted distribution plans (the "Plans") with respect to its class A, class B, and class M shares pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Investment Company Act of 1940. The purpose of the Plans is to compensate Putnam Mutual Funds Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Putnam Investments, Inc., for services provided and expenses incurred by it in distributing shares of the fund. The Plans provide for payments by the fund to Putnam Mutual Funds Corp. at an annual rate of up to 0.35%, 1.00%, and 1.00% of the average net assets attributable to class A, class B, and class M shares, respectively. The Trustees currently limit payments by the fund to an annual rate of 0.20%, 0.85%, and 0.50% of the average net assets attributable to class A, class B, and class M shares respectively.

For the year ended May 31, 1998, Putnam Mutual Funds Corp., acting as underwriter received net commissions of $81,698 and $685 from the sale of class A and class M shares, respectively and $199,915 in contingent deferred sales charges from redemptions of class B shares. A deferred sales charge of up to 1% is assessed on certain redemptions of class A shares that were purchases without an initial sales charge as part of an investment of $1 million or more. For the year ended May 31, 1998, Putnam Mutual Funds Corp., acting as underwriter received $9,139 on class A redemptions.

Note 3 Purchase and sales of securities

During the year ended May 31, 1998, purchases and sales of investment securities other than short-term investments aggregated $139,646,330 and $118,001,707, respectively. There were no purchases and sales of U.S. government obligations. In determining the net gain or loss on securities sold, the cost of securities has been determined on the identified cost basis.
