be developed by Toys "R" Us itself for many years," Mr. Lazarus said. "All of the franchise stores will be operated in accordance with Toys "R" Us standards."

Mr. Lazarus said that under the terms of the first two agreements, Toys "R" Us will receive significant royalty and other related service fees over the initial 12 year franchise period. These fees are anticipated to provide meaningful cash flow and earnings for our international division.

"We believe that the franchising concept will enable us to bring additional countries into the Toys "R" Us family on an accelerated basis," Mr. Lazarus concluded.

These franchise stores are in addition to 45 new toy stores that will be opened in the United States and 70 new Toys "R" Us stores that will be opened in other countries during 1994.

Toys "R" Us also announced that its Board of Directors has authorized the investment of up to $1 billion to buy back shares of the Company's outstanding common stock over the next several years.

Mr. Lazarus said, "Despite the aggressive expansion plans in 1994, Toys "R" Us is generating substantial excess cash flow. We believe that in addition to investing in our on-going business, the repurchase of Toys "R" Us common stock, from time to time in the open market or in negotiated transactions, will increase shareholder value."

Toys "R" Us is the world's largest and fastest growing children's specialty retailing chain currently operating 581 toy stores in the United States, 234 international toy stores and 217 Kids "R" Us children's clothing stores.
