Prudential Mutual Funds
BUILDING YOUR FUTURE
(LOGO)
ON OUR STRENGTH

Letter to Shareholders

December 6, 1993

Dear Shareholder:

Global stock markets have enjoyed attractive returns in the last year, outperforming almost every domestic stock and bond sector as the worldwide economic picture began to improve. The Prudential Global Fund has benefitted both from this general trend and from its current emphasis on the growing economies of the Pacific Rim.

As of October 31, 1993, 96% of the Fund's portfolio was invested in stocks and convertible securities, with a modest 4% in cash.

Riding A Wave Of Global Strength

The global stock markets are rebounding with vigor from a four-year slump that started in 1988. Global markets have returned 18.32% for the 12 months ended November 30, as measured by the Morgan Stanley World Index (a weighted index comprised of over 1,400 securities listed on the stock exchanges of the U.S., Europe, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and the Far East). In contrast, the S&P 500 is up 10.11% for the same time period.

A primary focus on careful stock selection is the key to global equity investing. Our strategy of identifying major structural changes in the world and buying stocks that are positioned to benefit is in large measure responsible for the past year's strong investment results. These trends restated below continue to dominate global investing in the 1990s:

A new age is dawning in Japan. The Liberal Democratic Party, which dominated Japanese politics since World War II, is out and a generational shift to a younger power base is taking place. Consumption is replacing thrift as society's byword, which should over time create more opportunities for investors. As the new government makes it easier for young, urban dwellers to buy homes, we have invested in single-family homebuilders like Higashi Nihon. We have also purchased Nissen, which is patterned after Spiegel, a discount catalog clothing concern.

The low-cost manufacturing centers of the Pacific Basin should continue to fuel explosive economic growth in that region. In addition, international businesses in countries like Malaysia and Singapore represent a chance to take part in China's growth. Our Singaporean holdings include Sembawang Shipyards, which does business with mainland China. Pilecon Engineering, a Malaysian company, is a public works construction firm with lucrative building contracts in the region.

Also in Asia, the Fund has begun to pursue Korean companies. This country is shifting from low-cost manufacturing to more sophisticated technology. In addition, it is poised to be one of China's key trading partners. Stocks we hold include Samsung Electronics, the consumer electronics giant heavily diversified into semiconductors. In addition, we hold Dong-Ah, a large contractor with technical expertise, contracting experience and the overseas exposure to exploit its strengths.

The U.S. market is a mature one that may display relatively slow growth for the foreseeable future. One strong sector in the U.S. is computer software technology. We have purchased Adaptec, which manufactures software that helps peripherals communicate with the central processor.

The merging of Eastern and Western Europe will have broad implications. As Europe moves slowly toward economic unification, we favor multinational companies that are doing business with the former Eastern bloc nations, as well as those with strong non-European operations.

Into The New Year

The U.S. economy appears to be settling into an extended period of steady--if somewhat slow--growth. Although there are signs inflation may be creeping into the picture, new U.S. taxes in 1993 and 1994 may dampen the expansion. The U.S. stock market, which reached record levels in 1993, may be lackluster as a result. Overseas, the European economies may have reached their bottom. Therefore, we are actively looking for opportunities in Europe, especially among companies that should profit in an expansionary economy. Asia remains the "'jewel'" in the growth crown. Japan's conversion to a consumer-based economy should bode well for all the booming Pacific economies, including Malaysia, Singapore and Korea or Indonesia.

The downside to our optimistic outlook would be a return to recession in the U.S. or the rest of the world. Investors--especially those with a negative global economic outlook--should carefully consider the currency, economic and stock market risks associated with global investing. Additional risks include political and social developments, which can also affect performance. Those who anticipate slow and steady growth, however, might want to remain diversified by keeping a portion of their equity portfolio in global equities.

As always, we are pleased to have you as a Prudential Global Fund shareholder and to take the opportunity to report our activities to you.

Sincerely,

Lawrence C. McQuade
President

Daniel J. Duane

PRUDENTIAL GLOBAL FUND, INC.
Notes to Financial Statements

Prudential Global Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as a diversified, open-end management investment company. The investment objective of the Fund is to seek long-term capital growth, with income as a secondary objective, by investing in a diversified portfolio of securities consisting of marketable securities of U.S. and non-U.S. issuers.

Note 1. Accounting Policies
The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Securities Valuation: Securities traded on an exchange (whether domestic or foreign) are valued at the last reported sales price on the primary exchange on which they are traded. Securities traded in the over-the-counter market (including securities listed on exchanges for which a last sales price is not available) are valued at the average of the last reported bid and asked prices.

Short-term securities which mature in more than 60 days are valued based upon current market quotations. Short-term securities which mature in 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost which approximates market value.

In connection with transactions in repurchase agreements with U.S. financial institutions, it is the Fund's policy that its custodian takes possession of the underlying collateral securities, the value of which exceeds the principal amount of the repurchase transaction including accrued interest. If the seller defaults and the value of the collateral declines or if bankruptcy proceedings are commenced with respect to the seller of the security, realization of the collateral by the Fund may be delayed or limited.

Foreign Currency Translation: The books and records of the Fund are maintained in U.S. dollars. Foreign currency amounts are translated into U.S. dollars on the following basis:

(i) market value of investment securities, other assets and liabilities--at the closing daily rate of exchange as reported by a major bank;

(ii) purchases and sales of investment securities, income and expenses--at the rate of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions.

Although the net assets of the Fund are presented at the foreign exchange rates and market values at the close of the fiscal year, the Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations arising as a result of changes in the foreign exchange rates from the fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of securities held at fiscal year end. Similarly, the Fund does not isolate the effect of changes in foreign exchange rates from the fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of long-term portfolio securities sold during the fiscal year.

Net realized losses on foreign currency transactions of $453,947 represent net foreign exchange gains or losses from sales and maturities of short-term securities, holding of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on security transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest and foreign taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent amounts actually received or paid. Net currency gains and losses from valuing foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities (other than investments) at year end exchange rates are reflected as a component of unrealized appreciation on foreign currencies.

Foreign security and currency transactions may involve certain considerations and risks not typically associated with those of domestic origin as a result of, among other factors, the possibility of political and economic instability and the level of governmental supervision and regulation of foreign securities markets.

Securities Transactions and Investment Income: Securities transactions are recorded on the trade date. Realized gains and losses from investment and currency transactions are calculated on the identified cost basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date, and interest income is recorded on an accrual basis.

Net investment income (other than distribution fees) and unrealized and realized gains or losses are allocated daily to each class of shares of the Fund based upon the relative proportion of net assets of each class at the beginning of the day.

Equalization: The Fund follows the accounting practice known as equalization by which a portion of the proceeds from sales and costs of reacquisitions of Fund shares, equivalent on a per share basis to the amount of distributable net investment income on the date of the transaction, is credited or charged to undistributed net investment income. As a result, undistributed net investment income per share is unaffected by sales or reacquisitions of the Fund's shares.

Reclassification of Capital Accounts: Effective November 1, 1992, the Fund began accounting and reporting for distributions to shareholders in accordance with Statement of Position 93-2: Determination, Disclosure, and Financial Statement Presentation of Income, Capital Gain, and Return of Capital Distributions by Investment Companies. As a result of this statement, the Fund changed the classification of distributions to shareholders to better disclose the differences between financial statement amounts and distributions determined in accordance with income tax regulations. The effect caused by adopting this statement was to decrease paid-in capital by $2,292,122, increase undistributed net investment income by $2,681,567 and decrease accumulated net realized losses on investments by $389,445 with respect to amounts reported through October 31, 1993. Net investment income, net realized gains and net assets were not affected by this change.

Dividends and Distributions: The Fund expects to pay dividends of net investment income and distributions of net realized capital and currency gains, if any, annually. Dividends and distributions are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Income distributions and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations which may differ from generally accepted accounting principles. These differences are primarily due to differing treatments for foreign withholding taxes.

Federal Income Taxes: It is the Fund's policy to continue to meet the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all of its taxable income to shareholders. Therefore, no federal income tax provision is required.

Withholding taxes on foreign dividends and interest have been provided for in accordance with the Fund's understanding of the applicable country's tax rules and rates.

Note 2. Agreements The Fund has a management agreement with Prudential Mutual Fund Management, Inc. ('PMF'). Pursuant to this agreement, PMF has responsibility for all investment advisory services and supervises the subadviser's performance of such services. PMF has entered into a subadvisory agreement with The Prudential Investment Corporation ('PIC'); PIC furnishes investment advisory services in connection with the management of the Fund. PMF pays for the cost of the subadviser's services, the compensation of officers of the Fund, occupancy and certain clerical and bookkeeping costs of the Fund. The Fund bears all other costs and expenses.

The management fee paid PMF is computed daily and payable monthly, at an annual rate of .75 of 1% of the average daily net assets of the Fund.

The Fund has distribution agreements with Prudential Mutual Fund Distributors, Inc. ('PMFD'), which acts as the distributor of the Class A shares of the Fund, and with Prudential Securities Incorporated ('PSI'), which acts as distributor of the Class B shares of the Fund (collectively the 'Distributors'). To reimburse the Distributors for their expenses incurred in distributing and servicing the Fund's Class A and B shares, the Fund, pursuant to plans of distribution, pays the Distributors a reimbursement, accrued daily and payable monthly.

Pursuant to the Class A plan, the Fund reimburses PMFD for its expenses with respect to Class A shares at an annual rate of up to .30 of 1% of the average daily net assets of the Class A shares. Such expenses under the Class A Plan were .20 of 1% of the average daily net assets of the Class A shares for the fiscal year ended October 31, 1993. PMFD pays various broker-dealers, including PSI and Pruco Securities Corporation ('Prusec'), affiliated broker-dealers, for account servicing fees and other expenses incurred by such broker-dealers.

Pursuant to the Class B plan, the Fund reimburses PSI for its distribution-related expenses with respect to the Class B shares at an annual rate of up to .75 of 1% of the average daily net assets up to the level of average daily net assets as of February 26, 1986, plus 1% of the average daily net assets in excess of such level.

The Class B distribution expenses include commission credits for payments of commissions and account servicing fees to financial advisers and an allocation for overhead and other distribution-related expenses, interest and/or carrying charges, the cost of printing and mailing prospectuses to potential investors and of advertising incurred in connection with the distribution of shares.

The Distributors recover the distribution expenses and account servicing fees incurred through the receipt of reimbursement payments from the Fund under the plans and receipt of initial sales charges (Class A only) and contingent deferred sales charges (Class B only) from shareholders.

PMFD has advised the Fund that it has received approximately $220,700 in front-end sales charges resulting from sales of Class A shares during the fiscal year ended October 31, 1993. From these fees, PMFD paid such sales charges to dealers (PSI and Prusec) which in turn paid commissions to salespersons.

With respect to the Class B Plan, at any given time, the amount of expenses incurred by PSI in distributing the Fund's shares and not recovered through the imposition of contingent deferred sales charges in connection with certain redemptions of shares may exceed the total payments made by the Fund pursuant to the Class B Plan. PSI has advised the Fund that for the fiscal year ended October 31, 1993, that it received approximately $290,200 in contingent deferred sales charges imposed upon certain redemptions by investors. PSI, as distributor, has also advised the Fund that at October 31, 1993, the amount of distribution expenses incurred by PSI and not yet reimbursed by the Fund or recovered through contingent deferred sales charges approximated $11,678,000. This amount may be recovered through future payments under the Class B Plan or contingent deferred sales charges.

In the event of termination or noncontinuation of the Class B Plan, the Fund would not be contractually obligated to pay PSI, as distributor, for any expenses not previously reimbursed or recovered through contingent deferred sales charges.

PMFD is a wholly-owned subsidiary of PMF; PSI, PMF and PIC are indirect, wholly-owned subsidiaries of The Prudential Insurance Company of America.

Note 3. Other Transactions With Affiliates Prudential Mutual Fund Services, Inc. ('PMFS'), a wholly owned subsidiary of PMF, serves as the Fund's transfer agent and during the fiscal year ended October 31, 1993, the Fund incurred fees of approximately $520,000 for the services of PMFS. As of October 31, 1993, approximately $44,000 of such fees were due to PMFS. Transfer agent fees and expenses in the Statement of Operations include certain out-of-pocket expenses paid to non-affiliates.

Note 4. Portfolio Securities Purchases and sales of investment securities, other than short-term investments, for the fiscal year ended October 31, 1993 were $162,876,729 and $137,928,274, respectively.

The United States federal income tax basis of the Fund's investments is substantially the same as for financial reporting purposes and, accordingly, as of October 31, 1993 net unrealized appreciation for federal income tax purposes was $71,226,498 (gross unrealized appreciation--$77,167,676; gross unrealized depreciation-- $5,941,178).

For federal income tax purposes, the Fund has a capital loss carryforward as of October 31, 1993 of approximately $11,527,100 of which $1,370,900 expires in 1998 and $6,017,600 expires in 1999 and $4,138,600 expires in 2000. During the fiscal year ended October 31, 1993 the Fund utilized approximately $12,614,900 of its capital loss carryforward. Accordingly, no capital gains distribution is expected to be paid to shareholders until net gains have been realized in excess of such carryforward.

Note 5. Joint Repurchase Agreement Account
 The Fund, along with other affiliated registered investment companies, transfers uninvested cash balances into a single joint account, the daily aggregate balance of which is invested in one or more repurchase agreements collateralized by U.S. Treasury or Federal agency obligations. As of October 31, 1993, the Fund has a 0.9% undivided interest in the repurchase agreements in the joint account. The undivided interest for the Fund represents $12,337,000 in the principal amount. As of such date, each repurchase agreement in the joint account and the collateral therefor were as follows:

CS First Boston Corp., 2.93%, in the principal amount of $360,000,000, repurchase price $360,087,900, due 11/1/93, collateralized by $47,400,000 U.S. Treasury Notes, 6.75%, due 2/28/97; $40,000,000 U.S. Treasury Notes, 11.25%, due 2/15/95; $100,000,000 U.S. Treasury Bonds, 7.50%, due 11/15/16; $50,000,000 U.S. Treasury Bonds, 10.375%, due 11/15/12 and $50,000,000 U.S. Treasury Bonds, 12.00%, due 5/15/05; aggregate value including accrued interest-- $368,368,052.

Note 6. Capital
 The Fund offers both Class A and Class B shares. Class A shares are sold with a front-end sales charge of up to 5.25%. Class B shares are sold with a contingent deferred sales charge which declines from 5% to zero depending on the period of time the shares are held. Both classes of shares have equal rights as to earnings, assets and voting privileges except that each class bears different distribution expenses and has exclusive voting rights with respect to its distribution plan. There are 500 million shares of common stock, $.01 par value per share, divided into two classes, designated Class A and Class B common stock, each of which consists of 250 million authorized shares.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

The Shareholders and Board of Directors
Prudential Global Fund, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Prudential Global Fund, Inc., including the portfolio of investments, as of October 31, 1993, the related statements of operations for the year then ended and of changes in net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the five years in the period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of the securities owned as of October 31, 1993 by correspondence with the custodian and brokers; where replies were not received from brokers, we performed other auditing procedures. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, such financial statements and financial highlights present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Prudential Global Fund, Inc. as of October 31, 1993, the results of its operations, the changes in its net assets and the financial highlights for the respective stated periods in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Past performance is not predictive of future performance and an investor's shares may be worth more or less than their original cost.

These graphs are furnished to you in accordance with SEC regulations. They compare a $10,000 investment in Prudential Global Fund (Class A and Class B) with a similar investment in the Morgan Stanley Capital International ``World'' Index (World Index) by portraying the initial account values at the commencement of operations of each class and subsequent account values at the end of each fiscal year (October 31), as measured on a quarterly basis, beginning in 1990 for Class A shares and in 1984 for Class B shares. For purposes of the graphs and, unless otherwise indicated, the accompanying tables, it has been assumed that (a) the maximum sales charge was deducted from the initial $10,000 investment in Class A shares; (b) the maximum applicable contingent deferred sales charge was deducted from the value of the investment in Class B shares assuming full redemption on October 31, 1993; (c) all recurring fees (including management fees) were deducted; and (d) all dividends and distributions were reinvested.

The World Index is a weighted index comprised of approximately 1500 companies listed on the stock exchanges of the U.S.A., Europe, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and the Far East. The combined market capitalization of these companies represents approximately 60% of the aggregate market value of the stock exchanges in the countries comprising the World Index. The World Index is an unmanaged index and includes the reinvestment of all dividends, but does not reflect the payment of transaction costs and advisory fees associated with an investment in the Fund. The securities which comprise the World Index may differ substantially from the securities in the Fund's portfolio. The World Index is not the only index which may be used to characterize performance of global funds and other indexes may portray different comparative performance.

Mountain Charts

Two mountain charts show the growth of an assumed investment of $10,000 in Prudential Global Fund. The charts represent historical performance and are not a guarantee of future performance of Class A shares or Class B shares.

A. Class A shares

The chart shows the growth of a $10,000 investment in Class A shares from inception on January 22, 1990 through September 30, 1993, and assumes a front-end sales charge of 5.25%. The chart shows the value of the investment as of September 30, 1993 (i) with the reinvestment of dividends and distributions in additional shares of the Fund and (ii) with all dividends and distributions taken in cash.

B. Class B shares

The chart shows the growth of a $10,000 investment in Class B shares from inception on May 16, 1984 through September 30, 1993, and does not assume the effect of a contingent deferred sales charge on redemptions. The chart shows the value of the investment as of September 30, 1993 (i) with the reinvestment of dividends and distributions in additional shares of the Fund and (ii) with all dividends and distributions taken in cash.

IV. Prudential Global Fund

Asset Allocation Pie Chart

The chart shows asset allocation by country as a percentage of the Fund's net assets as of October 31, 1993. As of that date, 35.1% of the Fund's net assets were invested in the Pacific Basin, 3.2% in Mexico, 7.0% in the United Kingdom, 13.3% in the United States, 2.4% in Australia, 16.0% in Japan, 17.4% in Europe and 5.6% was held in cash.
