This borrower member posted the following loan description, which has not been verified:

I have two unsecured loans totaling approximately 15,000.00. One with Beneficial and one with Citi Bank. I want to lower the interest rate and term. I would like to borrow for no more than five years and no less than three. With the economy as it is I am trying to get a handle on my finances. I have recently refinanced my home at a lower interest rate and term. So...this is another step in the process for me. On my credit report you will find that Primus indicates a charged off account but it is not charged off...I make timely negotiated monthly payments. I offer this info for full disclosure. This loan would allow me the pleasure to breathe a little during these difficult times. Regardless of your ability to offer me what I need...I am responsible for these credit obligations and am making timely payments...I am not delinquent nor late. Thank you for your thoughtful consideration.

This borrower member posted the following loan description, which has not been verified:

I have had excellent credit my whole life. My wife and I opened a fitness studio in November of 2007 and I financed it with my credit at a fixed 8.99% (equivalent to a business loan from the bank). Our credit merchant company went under and we had to switch, in turn delaying our credit card income. Consequently, our payment for our business debt was delayed by a week and Chase put us in default and raised our rate to 26.1%. This is clearly an unacceptable and relentless apr for a small business. We are adamant about paying off our business debt and were happy with our lender. But they are not willing to drop the apr back down, so we need a better option.

This borrower member posted the following loan description, which has not been verified:

Due to an unforeseeable medical complication, we had to place several large medical bills onto our credit cards. We are unaccustomed to having this much debt and are uncomfortable with it being on credit cards. We feel that the choice to make a single loan payment each month will allow us greater peace of mind and continue the healing process. We are both secure in our work and anticipate that we will not need the 36 month term quoted, as the loan payments would be appreciably lower than what we currently are paying. We are delighted to see there is no prepayment penalty as well. We look forward to moving on from this situation and in working with Lending Club.

This borrower member posted the following loan description, which has not been verified:

We have been in business for more than 2 years and very successful at what we do. We have a line of credit with the bank and have never been late, we have paid off the line of credit in full more than once and have borrowed against it for new equipment. We are looking to expand our business once more and are looking for different sources of funding. Our credit scores are very high and we have a proven track record in paying all of our debt in time. We are the fastest growing business in our sector and are backed by two responsible adults. Our loan will be used to purchase additional equipment that we will be using for contracts that have already been signed, so the equipment will be paying for itself. There are not bets or chances as to whether our business will work, because we are not a start up.

I am requesting a $7,000 loan to pay off my Bank of America credit card whose current interest rate is almost 30% . It jumped from around 19.99% recently because I did miss a payment. I own a small accessories design business (for the past 6 years) and most of the charges on this card are from filling in the gaps on a very slow year and also my training fees to become a certified Kundalini yoga teacher. I have been paying my debts and taking care of business but things have still gotten out of hand so I look forward to the opportunity to get my debt under control and paid off.

This borrower member posted the following loan description, which has not been verified:

I currently have $15,000 spread out over 7 credit cards- with interest rates ranging from 9.99% to 18.99%. I would like to consolidate this debt into one loan so that I can reduce my interest rate and pay it off in a timely manner. I own my car outright- I have moved back in with my parents and pay no rent or utilities while I am paying off my debt. Last year I grossed $48,000 and this year I am looking at a considerable increase in salary. I have established credit for over 8 years without any late payments on record. I pay ontime- everytime! I have a degree in Business from one of the nation's top business schools and currently work at an insurance brokerage- this debt was incurred while going to school full time while funding my sick grandmother's last two years of life. I am on track to be succesful but simply need to eliminate my debt. I hope you will consider my request and approve my loan. Respectfully Yours-

This borrower member posted the following loan description, which has not been verified:

I am requesting a loan of $15,000 in order to pay off my credit cards. I recently graduated from nursing school, my second career, and am now faced with the reality of large amounts of debt. In the past while living at home with my parents I was careless with my money management, however now being on my own and having to adhere to a strict budget has made me face the damage I've done. I desperately need a loan so that I can pay off my credit card debt and consolidate my debt into a lower rate loan. It is my goal to be both debt free and credit card free in 5 years. I know I will have the income to do so now that I am starting work in a few weeks, I just need a lender to give me the opportunity so I can use the loan money to pay off my credit cards.

My wife and I have been married for seven months, we had to pay for a lot of the wedding on my credit card. We also have some other credit cards, small amounts, that we would like to pay off. We have budgeted our incomes and would like to have goals to be debt free. This loan will pay off all the "extra debt" leaving us with only a car payment and some student loans, as well as the loan payment itself. With our credit card debt consolidated we will be able to pay extra on the car and the student loans. We are currently paid up on our rent for the next two years.

We are an IT consulting company and are rolling out a virtual remote office solution for our clients. This solution will allow them to work from anywhere in the world via the Internet and is a perfect fit for small businesses who are currently hosting their data in a peer to peer network with no external access. We are in the implementation phase and have signed up a total of 12 customers already that will each pay a monthly fee of $149 each for the next 3 years. We have another 120 or so prospects to still visit and explain our new offering to so the potential for this is huge. To date we have invested $27,278 of our own capital into this offering and need to raise the remaining funds to make this live by 2/5. We have the basic infrastructure already in place and need to raise the capital to expand this to support more than the current target capacity of 25 users.

We are a young couple who are trying to pay for our own wedding. We are having a modest wedding, but we both have large families that we want to include. We both have good, stable jobs. Melissa is a manager for Starbucks. Kaleb is an EMT who is pursuing a higher education to become a paramedic. Both of our parents are going through financial hardship and have not been able to help us out with paying for our wedding. We have gone to a couple of financial institutions to try to pay for our wedding expenses and have been told that we have a good credit rating and good debt to income ratio. Unfortunately, these financial institutions have told us that the economic situation in the country has limited their ability provide unsecured loans. We are searching for alternative means to make our wedding the wonderful day that we have always wanted (with out modest budget) We were not able to file this loan jointly, so the income listed is just for one of us.

My name is Kurt and I have been involved in starting up a company called the Back Healing Center in Pasadena, CA. We have been in operation since October of 2008, during this time we have been renting out a small space in a doctors office to test out a new way of treating patients with back pain. We take a non-surgical, non-narcotic approach and have been very successful during our testing phase. The Back Healing Center utilizes bio-motion therapy, nutrition, core stabilization, and stress reduction techniques to restore back health in our patients. Now that we know that our program works we are looking to move into our own facility so that we can start to really brand and develop the program even further. We have not taken out any loans yet and have been funding the program with our own savings. (We being - Juliette our Doctor of Physical Therapy, Mike my business partner and myself) If funding is secured we will utilize the funds to put a deposit down on our lease space, buy necessary medical equipment, continue our PR campaign and continue to help patients with back pain so they avoid having surgery or being stuck on pain killers.

I own a Pediatric office in Las Vegas, NV. There are two offices with three providers. We have over $600,000 annually in revenue. Our second office is new and we are looking for operating capital for this new office. We anticipate this new office will be growing rapidly and anticipate revenue's doubling in the next year. Due to the economic environment, the banks that we have relationships are not providing money for operating capital at all. I hope this will change soon, however, in the meantime we are in need of operating capital. We are currently seeing on average 20 - 25 patients per day at each of our locations.

This borrower member posted the following loan description, which has not been verified:

I had a HELOC with a zero balance but $20,000 possible. I would put about a $10K balance on it from time to time while taking advantage of 0% CC loans. I was making some money using the big Credit Card companies system against them. My bank decided to "re-value" my house and my HELOC got chopped to $1K max value. Then I thought "I don't want to become a statistic if something ever happens with my job." My job has been steady for 5 years and looks like it will be for another 5, but you never know. My wife and I decided to start living in our basement and renting out the top of the house as a Vacation Rental and sometimes as a Bed & Breakfast. So we did some remodeling and racked up our first permanent CC debt in my life ($10 K). We have started renting our house and things look promising. I hate the idea of giving the interest I made off of the CC companies back to them and would rather get a loan from investors here.

I am looking for a consolidation loan in order to be able to lock in a lower interest rate and pay off my debt faster. I am hoping to get engaged in August to the love of my life and this loan will allow me to save more money every month and to have a greater cash flow for when do get married. I am currently paying about one thousand dollars a month in an attempt to pay off my debt and this loan would allow me to cut my payments in half. I have a fantastic job as a Regional Marketing Specialist with SunAmerica and I am living at home with my parents and not paying any rent. Paying off this loan will not be a problem and you can be certain that I am a safe investment. Please let me know if you have any questions and your support is very much appreciated!

This borrower member posted the following loan description, which has not been verified:

Personal debt was never an issue until August 2006. That month my family was involved in a serious auto accident and my youngest brother suffered severe injuries resulting in multiple surgical procedures and lengthy hospital stays. Since the accident, additional facial reconstructive procedures have been performed and the total cost of the medical bills climbed well into the hundreds of thousand dollar range. Although insurance covered the vast majority of the medical costs, it did not pay for everything. To make a long story short, by December 2007, I had accrued a substantial amount of credit card debt. However, in spite of these obstacles I have aggressively paid down the debt throughout 2008, and as of December I have eliminated more than $12,000 of the debt. In August 2008, despite my payoff efforts Bank of America raised my interest rate from 7% to 25% and slashed my available credit to just above my balance because I was now categorized as high risk. I made numerous attempts to lower my interest rate but to no avail, and with the economy in its current state I have not been able to successfully transfer my balance to another account with a lower rate. So I am now looking at other sources to payoff the B of A card and its ridiculous interest rate. I would like to convey to all considering my loan request that I am a sound investment and this truth is supported by the following facts: I have a secure career in the electric utility industry headed into its 7th year (have to keep the lights on!), I will earn a salary in the six figure range this year and beyond, and despite the recent adversities I am absolutely determined to payoff all debts while honoring my commitments. Also, I have NEVER missed or made a late payment in my life and my credit reports accurately reflect this important detail. I appreciate your kind consideration of my request and look forward to answering any questions you may have for me. Sincerely, Payoff High Interest CC

This borrower member posted the following loan description, which has not been verified:

I would like to get a loan for $7,000. I have several credit cards and would prefer to have just one payment. The reason I do have credit card debt is because I just got out of college. I have never been late or missing any payments. I currently have a very good job with a government contractor. Thank you.

This borrower member posted the following loan description, which has not been verified:

I'm almost done with my Master's Degree in Public Administration. My employer paid for one-third of the tuition and expenses. I paid for some of the remaining costs with savings. When I exhausted my savings account, I started using my credit card which had other charges on it. Those charges were related to helping my sister's family after her husband was laid off from his job. Now, our state - like most others - is in a financial slump, and I will not receive an increase in salary upon completion of my degree. I was counting on the increase to help pay off the credit card debt I owe. My sister won't be able to repay me for a while, as it will take time for them to get back on their feet once her husband finds another job. They have two beautiful girls, ages 12 and 9. Since I am near the limit on the card, I am afraid the credit card company will hike my rate up even higher than it is now. So, this will allow me to pay a good chunk of it to keep the credit card company from increasing my APR. All of my accounts are current - I have no late or delinquent accounts. Thank you for your consideration.

I have been invited to purchase stock at the private company where I work. I would like to buy $10,000, but currently only have $5,000 available. The loan will be paid off by the end of the year after receiving my year-end bonus. It is important to note that while I have a high debt load, I have always been able to manage this debt. My job is quite secure (they would not invite me to increase my stock ownership otherwise), and my pay has increased between 10 and 20% per year for the past 6 years that I have been at the company. While I don't need this loan (I could just buy $5,000 worth of stock), I would prefer to buy as much as possible (the max is $10,000).

I am not going to sugar coat anything. I am looking for a short term loan to purchase a real estate investment property. I have been an investor for 2 years and I am always looking for new ways to fund my projects. This is my first time trying LendingClub, and I am hoping this will work well. I am purchasing a 3 bedroom 1 bath brick ranch with an attached garage, full basement and in a respectable area (not in detroit) that is valued between $65,000 and $75,000 in todays market. Once I purchase this property I will exersize one of 3 exit strategies. 1) I will wholesale the property to one of my real estate companions for a quick sale. 2) I will lease the property with an option to buy on a 12 month term. (I have a growing list of people interested in my area) 3) I refinance the property 3-6 months out and place a tenant into the property. Rental rates are 800-900 for 3 bedrooms in the area, and I would have little trouble finding a renter. Thank you for your time and I hope this works out for us all.

Purpose of loan: This loan will be used to pay off all my outstanding bills. I want to pay down my debt quicker, and a loan from LendingClub will help reduce my interest charges. My financial situation: I am a good candidate for this loan because I am financially stable. I have a well paying and stable career with the leading CTI company. I am currently paying all my loans on time and more than minimum payments, but I want to reduce the actual interest I am paying. I haven't missed a payment with any of my lenders and my career is moving up steadily. I have had credit history for 4 years and never missed a payment, but I guess that's not enough for the automated systems to validate my history. As I've been on time and more than capable to pay my loans, I think that I have not been graded by capability to repay my loans, but simply because I have not had a long history of credit.

I just purchased a new vehicle and would like to combine the two cars I own into one monthly payment. Both cars are from 2006. Remaining balances are: Car 1.) 2500 Car 2.) 8500 Car values are as follows (KBB private party good condition): Car 1.) 11000 Car 2.) 12000 I have a stable job as a pricing analyst working for a defense company in Northern California. I am a family man with one little boy and a loving wife. Feel free to ask me questions. I own a home with a very low monthly payment (FHA certified loan). I am also a UC Davis undergraduate with a degree in economics. By combining these loans into one (I will pay the remaining balance of $3800 with cash reserves) I will be able to lower my monthly payments to $250 and use the excess funds to pay down the principle.

We are a technology integrator, in business for 10 years now. We design and install audio/visual systems, computer networks, security systems, for commercial and residential customers, we also have a retail side, and are industry and vendor certified for dozens of companies. We have been growing steadily but like others have experienced cash flow issues due to customers paying slowly on projects, mostly from our public sector / government projects. The funds will be used to maintain payroll cushions and to shore up inventory in the short term. We are also waiting on bank financing to come through. We pride ourselves on paying our bills on time and have strong credit, we need a bit of help to keep ourselves going. Our plan is to pay off the funds early and as soon as possible.

This borrower member posted the following loan description, which has not been verified:

I have two credit cards that I want to consolidate into one monthly payment. With my interest rates in the mid-20's, interest has been taking a toll on knocking the debt down in a timely fashion. With Lending Club, I can cut my interest rate significantly, save money, and pay off my debt in under three years. I have never missed a payment on my mortgage, car loan, or credit cards in the eight years of establishing credit.

This borrower member posted the following loan description, which has not been verified:

Hi...I didnt know where to put my loan request because it wouldve been used for many other things...But anyway let me introduce myself, my name is Pete, im 26 years of age and live in the state of Washington state. I moved here about almost close to a year ago from my hometown in Florida, yes different climate change. My reason for moving was because i needed new scenery and wanted to pursue what I went to college for which is something in the industry. I majored for media arts and animation and got my bachelor's. When I came to Washington I thought I would find promising jobs but the only thing they have in any interest when it came to the art field was web designing and my skills arent to par in that field. So here I am working in retail and I have been with my company for 3 years now but the scene is gettign old and I still have dreams of breaking into the industry and showing what I can do. My next move will be to California because I know thats where I can make it where i wanna be and pursue my career, only problem is i have not the funds to carry out my plans. With medicine I must purchase for my diabetes, high blood presure, and seeing kidney specialists every now and then not to mention car payments, entertainment, phone bills and rent its been hard to save up when the things i need to survive is what I sacrifice for which i dont mind because its an act of survival. This loan not only will help me out with my moving expenses but will also help out when it comes to some of the bills I need to pay but I mainly need it for the move from washington to Cali...I ma forever grateful if someone would be willing to help me thank you for your time most appreciated

The purpose of this loan is to expand a gymnastics and cheer business. Currently we operate in a shared facility that also hosts recreation league basketball and volleyball, and the hall is also rented out for wedding receptions. Consequently, myself, my coaches, and the athletes parents have to set up and take down gymnastics equipment for classes. This money will be used for equipment that we currently do not have because of the size limitations of the current facility (floor exercise) and because its not possible to set up and take down this equipment as it is not portable. The remainder of the money will be used for office equipment and also for operating capital as we have found a permanent location for our gymnastics and cheer classes. We have enough participants right now that we are over the break even barrier for our new facility and we are starting an aggressive marketing campaign through the twelve elementary schools, three middle schools, and two high schools in our city so that we can boost our enrollment numbers.

This borrower member posted the following loan description, which has not been verified:

I have a great credit history and a stable job. I have invested in Lending Club also. I really don't need a loan. I just wanted to borrow small amount ($4000) to test how the process works so I can borrow again quickly if there is an emergency. In the mean while I can use this loan to pay off my credit card balance that I incurred during Christmas. I usually pay my credit card balance in full every month.
